UNITED STATE GAINS AN IMPORTANT POINT IN PLANS

Transfer of Authority from the Present Mexican Government to a Provisional President Shall Be Through Other Channels Than Appointment by Huerta as Minister of Foreign Affairs. Man Selected by Mediators

CARRANZA WILL SEND REPRESENTATIVES.

Saltillo, Mex., June 11.—General Carranza announced tonight that he had returned an answer to the note of the Niagara Falls mediators stating that he would appoint representatives to the conference at Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 11.—An important point in plans for the pacification of Mexica was gained by the United States tonight through the conciliatory spirit displayed by the Mexican delegation.

In a full conference of the mediators and the delegates of both countries, it was agreed that the transfer of authority from the present administration to the new provisional government should be accomplished in some other way than by Gen. Huerta's appointment of a minister of foreign affairs to succeed to the provisional presidency.

This method, provided for in the Mexican constitution, will be abandoned because the United States insisted that to assent to it would be tantamount to a recognition of Gen. Huerta's right to exercise constitutional functions.

On this point the mediation conference had been engaged for three weeks and for the past three days continuance of the negotiations has been threatened. The mediators themselves almost had lost hope of a peaceful settlement. Somewhat piqued at Gen. Carranza's delay in answering their last communication they suddenly had made public all correspondence with the Constitutionalists and declared the question of inviting participation closed.

As the Americans began their discussion with the mediators the latter contended again that the method of transfer would not be construed as recognition of Huerta, but the Americans reiterated that the Constitutionalists would never accept such a method and the United States could not yield consistently with its own policy.

Mexicans Gave In.

Finally, when matters seemed at a breaking point, Luis Elguero, one of the Mexican delegates entered the conference room and immediately a spirit of compromise was noticeable. Observing it, the Americans suggested that the other Mexicans come into the conference and Emilio Rabasa and Augustin Rodriguez joined the group. It was not a formal conference, but an impromptu talk.

In a very brief time the Americans found they had made more headway with the Mexicans direct than they had been previously by working through the mediators.

The Mexican delegates said that although anxious to follow the constitutional form, they would not frustrate the proceedings on a technicality. Accordingly the first clause of the mediators plan, respecting the method of transfer, was omitted. A sub-process will be left to future conferences.

Frederick W. Lehmann told correspondents of the progress made and Justice Lamar dictated the following:

"I was authorized by the mediators to say that we have substantially agreed on the first plank as to the method of transfer of authority to the new provisional government."

Tonight's conference lasted more than two hours. Names for provisional president were not mentioned, but it is said that at tomorrow's conference a beginning will be made in this direction. Another almost irreconcilable difference of opinion exists on the type of man for the provisional presidency, the Mexicans arguing for a "neutral", while the Americans want an out and out Constitutionalist.

The publication of the correspondence with the Constitutionalists for the moment was shelved in interest over the method of transfer of authority. The mediators did not wait to receive the answer from Rafael Zubaran to the last communication.

This generally was taken to mean that the mediators thought sufficient consideration already was being given the Constitutionalists in the parleys.

The real reason for closing the correspondence was said to be the direct intimation through the press and other channels that Gen. Carranza would not agree to an armistice.

No Comment on Move.

Washington, June 11.—Administration officials would not comment tonight on the South American mediators' refusal to wait longer for Gen. Carranza to answer their communication suggesting that Constitutionalist representatives be sent to participate in the Mexican Peace Conference at Niagara Falls.

Publication by the mediators of exchanges between them and Gen. Carranza's agents and their report that the South American envoys regarded further waiting as beneath their dignity were taken here to mean that the door to mediation is closed on the Constitutionalists.

While the mediators were determining to close the door of the conference to Carranza, President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan held a protracted conference at the White House. They were in frequent communication with the American commissioners at Niagara Falls and following these interchanges, Mr. Bryan reiterated that mediation was "progressing satisfactorily."

A few minutes later word came from Niagara Falls of the decision of the mediators with respect to Carranza. As soon as he reached his office, Mr. Bryan was called to the long distance telephone and informed of the action of the mediators.

"I have heard of the decision of the mediators," Mr. Bryan said when asked concerning the late reports from Niagara Falls, "but there is nothing for me to say."

Will Not Agree.

The fact that Gen. Carranza had forwarded no answer to the latest communication from the mediators had been regarded in some quarters here for several days as an indication that he did not intend to participate in mediation which would require a cessation of hostilities against Huerta. It was reported officials of the Washington government had been well aware of this for some time and had so informed the conferees at Niagara Falls. It was upon this information, it is believed, that the reported suggestions were made of continuing the mediation in its present form.

One phase of the situation discussed here tonight was the possibility that Gen. Carranza had contemplated full reply to the mediators' communication eventually and that he might yet do so. In this event, it was believed, the Washington administration might use its influence to assure reception of such a reply.

In dismissing the idea of participation in mediation, as a result of today's developments, some of Carranza's agents here declared the campaign against Huerta would be continued with increased activity. Arms and ammunition for Gen. Carranza aboard the Cuban steamer Antilla now at Tampico, which the United States was too late in its effort to prevent leaving American shores probably will be unloaded tomorrow.

Matter of Grave Concern.

The apprehension of Gen. Funston over rumors of a possible Federal advance on American outposts at Vera Cruz has become a matter of grave concern to War Department officials. The general anxiety is increased by knowledge that a strong rebel force is operating in Vera Cruz State. Any plan for the extension of the American lines to strengthen Gen. Funston's position must be considered in the light of the State Department's acceptance of mediation and the reiterated assumption that there would be no advance movements during mediation proceedings.

Gen. Funston has under his command, in addition to soldiers of his brigade, some 2,850 marines. Should more soldiers be needed in event his lines were extended there are 900 marins on the battleships at Vera Cruz, and thousands of blue jackets.

The machinery for the prevention of more shipments of ammunition to Mexico from American ports seems now to be in fair working order. Secretary Bryan announced today that the liner El Sud, just arrived at Galveston, would not be permitted to trans-ship her cargo to Tampico. The Secretary realizes, however, that he is without authority if the El Sud's skipper trans-ships to Havana and thence back to Tampico.

Damaged and weather-beaten until they no longer are considered safe, two aeroplanes used by Gen. Funston for scouting work along the outskirts of Vera Cruz, today were ordered with their crews back to aeronautic headquarters at Pensacola, Fla., for repairs. They will be transported on the battleship Mississippi.

The Navy Department tonight took steps to replace the damaged machines. It was said immediate orders for the dispatch of other machines would be issued. The flying squad at Vera Cruz consisted of Lieut. Com. Mustin and Lieut. Bellinger, qualified air pilots, and Lieut. R. C. Saufley, Ensign M. L. Stotz and Ensign W. D. Lamont, assistant pilots.

WILSON MAY TAKE STUMP.

Nation's Chief Executive May Aid Democracy in Weak States.

Washington, June 11.—The possibility of President Wilson taking the stump for Democratic candidates in the fall congressional elections was discussed with him today by Representative Connolly, of Iowa, Democratic nominee for the Senate.

The President told Mr. Connolly he had not decided yet whether to make any speeches. Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic nominee for senator in Pennsylvania, also has made efforts to have the President speak in his State.

MRS. "BUD" FISHER HURT.

Pinned Under Overturned Automobile —Not Fatally Injured.

New York, June 11.—Mrs. Pauline Fisher, 23, wife of "Bud" Fisher, the cartoonist, was severely injured when two motor cars collided here early today. Five other occupants of the cars were less seriously injured. First reports said that Mrs. Fisher had been fatally hurt. Later it was said at the hospital where she was taken, after the accident, that her condition was much improved.

One of the cars overturned, pinning Mrs. Fisher beneath.

REBELS WINNING IN ALL SECTIONS

Lines About Zacatecas Being Drawn Tighter.

MAZATLAN IS DOOMED

City on West Coast of Mexico Has All But Surrendered—Constitutionalist Forces Capture Hill of Strategic Importance.

Saltillo, Mex., June 11.—Fighting continued today at Zacatecas where Gen. Panfilo Natera began an assault with his 12,000 Constitutionalist troops early yesterday morning. Gen. Natera has drawn a close line around the town and is determined that he will not allow the Federal garrison under Medina Barron to escape. No details of the casualties of the present battle have been received here.

Gen. Venustiano Carranza has issued an order to obviate the confusion caused by refusal of persons in some States to accept as legal tender money issued in other States. The order provides that money issued in any State must be accepted in every other State under Constitutional control.

Gen. Villareal, Governor of Nuevo Leon, has issued an order in Monterey that no one shall be allowed to hold corn for high prices or store it and also that no price greater than five cents a liter shall be charged for it. It is believed here this order will have the effect of relieving the food scarcity in that State.

A statement that the family of Gustav Bauch, killed in Chihahuahua, would receive $25,000 from the Constitutionalists was denied by officials here. The commission headed by Gen. Fraustro appointed to investigate the Benton and Bauch cases will go immediately to Chihuahua and Juarez to take evidence. The commission has been instructed to expedite the investigation.

Gen. Jesus Carranza, brother of the first chief, and Governor Villareal, of Nuevo Leon, spent part of today in conference with Gen. Carranza.

Gen. Gonzales is expected to return here shortly from Monterey with the remainder of his forces except a small garrison left to hold the city.

Ignacio Bonillas, acting secretary of communications, has gone to Sonora on official business and probably will arrive at Hermosillo today, where he is expected to investigate unsettled conditions there.

Fresnillo, 36 miles north of Zacatecas, has been occupied by Constitutionalists.

PROHIBITION VOTE WITHIN A FEW WEEKS

Lively Discussion in Congressional Circles.

House Rules Committee Members Give Assurances They Will Report the Rule Amendment—May Be Favorable Report.

Washington, June 11.—Despite the fact that the House rules committee postponed until July 1 action on a special rule to provide for immediate consideration of Representative Hobson's resolution for national prohibition through an amendment to the Federal constitution, prohibition continued today to be a lively topic of discussion in congressional circles. Precipitation of the issue at this time has aroused keener interest at the capital than in any other question that has come up there in a long while.

While the committee has deferred consideration of the rule, definite assurances have been given by committee members that they would consider and probably favorably report the resolution providing for a special rule in July. In some quarters it was asserted that the postponement meant that no action would be taken during the present session. It was confidently predicted at the capital today, however, that the House would be forced to vote on national prohibition within four or five weeks.

Representative Hobson today predicted that his resolution would come before the House for action on July 6 or 7. In the event the resolution is not passed he announced that it would again be brought up when Congress reconvenes next winter.

Chairman Henry, of the rules committee, expects to make a two weeks' visit in Texas. No hearings, it was stated will be held by the committee on the special rule.

Washington, June 11.—Representative William G. Sharp, of Ohio, will be nominated as ambassador to France, according to reports current today in official circles. An ambassador to Russia also is expected to be named shortly.

VOTE EXPECTED ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Question Before Federation of Women's Clubs.

IS NOW IN COMMITTEE

Suffragist Leaders Claim a Majority of the Delegates to the Convention—Confident of a Report From the Committee.

Chicago, June 11.—Suffragist leaders tonight claimed a majority of the 1,716 delegates to the biennial session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who are expected to vote on the question of suffrage before adjournment. Illinois alone has 297 delegates, and other suffragist States are said to be well represented.

Suffragists also assert that a poll of the six members of the resolutions committee, which can act on the suffrage question, shows four in favor of the endorsement of suffrage.

The resolutions committee gained the power to decide if suffrage shall come before the convention when the report of the committee on rules and regulations consigning all resolution to the Resolutions committee was adopted today. The least the suffragists expect is that a minority report of the Resolutions committee will throw the whole question on the floor.

Considerable surprise was expressed when the report of the committee on rules and regulations was adopted. The same rule adopted at San Francisco two years ago was criticised then as taking too much power from delegates. It placed the suffrage question at the mercy of six women.

The fact that there was no negative voice raised to the adoption of the report went far to convince observers that the suffragists feel assured of some kind of endorsement in committee, and the consequent opening of debate to delegates.

Illinois delegates today adopted a resolution calling for "equal rights for both men and women," to be presented to the convention.

A report on membership by Mrs. Frank White, of Valley City, N. D., said the general federation had gained a2,685 members in the last two years.

Mrs. Hugh Griffin brought greeting from Paris and Mrs. John Leckie from London. A letter of greeting from Countess Okuma, of Japan, was read.

STEAMER REPORTED LOST.

Canadian Government Steamer—Fear All on Board Are Lost.

Halifax, N. S., June 11.—It was reported late tonight that the government steamer Montgomery was missing and it was feared all on board had been lost.

London, June 11.—The reported engagement of Prince Alexander of Battenberg and Countess Zia Torby, of Russia, was denied today.

ENGLAND URGED TO TAKE ACTION

Home Secretary Speaks Before House of Commons.

SHOULD BRING SUIT

Now That Government Has Evidence of Contributors to Suffragist Fund McKenna Wants Them Held Responsible.

London, June 11.—Reginald McKenna, the home secretary, announced in the House of Commons today that he hoped the government had obtained sufficient evidence to enable it to bring suit against subscribers to the funds of the militant suffragist organization. He added the further hope that the government would be able to make the subscribers liable for the full extet of the damage done by "arson squads," destroyers of mail and picture slashers.

The announcement was made in response to bitter criticism of the inactivity of the government against what Lord Robert Cecil described as "nothing less than anarchy," for which, in his opinion the only real remedy was deportation.

Mr. McKenna pleaded that the government faced a situation absolutely without precedent. The number of women actually engaged in committing crimes connected with the militant suffragist movement is small, he said, but sympathizers are numerous. He admitted the crimes were increasing in seriousness and he recognized the growing sense of public indignation against the militant suffragists, more especially in regard to their rudeness to King George and Queen Mary.

In discussion various suggestions for dealing with the militants, the home secretary said he believed the "let them die" policy would act only as a greater incentive to militancy and would in due course lead to a reaction in public opinion. Deportation, he considered impracticable.

Are Not Lunatics.

As to treating the suffragists as lunatics, Mc. McKenna said he could not ask parliament to sanction an act defining people as lunatics who had not been medically certified as such.

The last proposition, he said, was to give women the vote, but he thought that could not be seriously considered as a remedy for existing conditions.

Mr. McKenna showed he had an abiding faith in the "cat-and-mouse act." He denied that many of the crimes attributed to suffragists had been committed by women released

WILLARD-ROOSEVELT NUPTIALS ARE OVER

Ceremony at Madrid, Spain, Was Grand Affair.

Performed in the Chapel of the British Embassy at Spanish Capital. Rain Did Not Prevent a Large Crowd Attending.

Madrid, June 11.—The religious wedding ceremony of Kermit Roosevelt, son of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, and Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of the American ambassador, and Mrs. Joseph E. Willard, was performed today in the chapel of the British embassy here.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel Watson, rector of the American Church of the Holy Trinity, at Paris, assisted by the Rev. Herbert Brown, of the British embassy chapel here, performed the ceremony.

The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Willard, sister of the bride, and the bride's maids were the Princess of Thurn and Taxis, Miss Catherine Page, Mlle. Gilone Le Veneur de Tilleres and Miss Virginia Christian, of Richmond, Va.

In spite of a drenching rain storm, a large crowd gathered outside the American embassy and the church to watch the arrival and departures of the bride and bride groom and the wedding guests.

The party proceeded to and from the residence of Ambassador Willard and the church in automobiles and gala carriages.

The bride was dressed in ivory satin and tulle, with a court train and wore orange blossoms arrayed with old lace and a long veil of tulle and lace.

The maid of honor was dressed in white satin with a tunic of pale blue tulle, and the bridesmaids in white tulle with tunics. All of them wore lace touched with yellow, and had yellow ribbons tied under the chin, and they carried bouquets of yellow orchids.

The wedding breakfast was served at the American embassy and a great reception was afterward held, but the rain made it impossible for the guests to remain in the gardens of the embassy, which had been handsomely decorated.

The bride and bride groom plan to pass their honeymoon in the South of Spain.

TOLLS REPEAL BILL PASSES SENATE BY A GOOD MAJORTY

Senators Vardaman of Mississippi, and West of Georgia, Almost Come to Blows Before Those Near Them Come Between—Mississippian Tells James of Kentucky That He is Not Telling the Truth—Vote Taken Late Last Night on Measure.

Washington, June 11.—Repeal of Panama canal tolls exemption for American coastwise shipping passed the Senate tonight by a vote of 50 to 35. The measure now goes back to the House, which is expected to accept the Simmons-Norris amendment specifically reserving all rights the United States may have under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Bitterness among Democratic Senators over the repeal bill flared up again tonight, and before oil was poured on the troubled waters Senators Vardaman, of Mississippi, and West, of Georgia, almost came to blows. Apparently, only the interference of Senator Ashurst and the presence of the sergeant-at-arms prevented a physical encounter.

The trouble lasted less than a minute, but in that time the Senate was intensely excited and displayed an interest in things such as has not been evident for weeks.

The trouble started after bitter exchange between Senator Vardaman and Senator James, who had vigorously criticised the Mississippi Senator, and in turn had been told that he was not stating the truth.

When Senator Vardaman sat down, Senator West took the floor and also entered a protest against the recent charge of Senator Vardaman that those who voted for the repeal bill were guilty of treachery to the Democratic party. He referred to the charge that the Carnegie Foundation had expended $30,000 to boost the repeal bill.

Charges and Counter Charges.

"Who knows," added the Georgia Senator, "but what the shipping interests have spent $100,000 to defeat this bill."

"Have you been offered any-" asked Senator Vardaman. As he spoke, he rose to his feet and started toward the Georgia Senator who was only a few feet away.

"Don't you say that to me," said Senator West, shaking his head and lifting his arms.

"Well," said Senator Vardaman, still advancing with his arms half raised, "You are making an intimation that somebody else has been influenced."

By this time the two Senators were only a few feet apart, but Senator Ashurst, one of the biggest men in the Senate, had stepped between them. He laid his left arm across Senator Vardaman's chest and extended his right toward the Georgian and tried to pacify them, but they kept talking.

In the meantime, members in the cloak room tried to tumble out of the doors all at once and the galleries were half filled with people leaning forward with the expectation of seeing a real fight.

"Senators will please come to order," shouted Senator Swanson, presiding.

"The Senators will please take their seats and the sergeant-at-arms—"

Looked Like a Fight.

Here he was interrupted, but Sergeant-at-Arms Higgins had heard enough and he walked out to where the two Senators stood glaring at each other across the outstreched arms of Senator Ashurst and stood ready for the official command to stop whatever might be started.

Mr. West insisted on explaining.

"I did not say in writing or otherwise—" he started to explain.

"The Senators will please take their seats," urged the presiding officer, while the gallery and the Republican side of the Senate in particular looked on as if something would happen.

"No, I am not to sit down," continued Mr. West. Senator James endeavored to explain that the Georgia Senator was not trying to make charges. Finally, all resumed their seats without a blow on either side. Both Senators West and Vardaman explained that they meant no reflection on any one in what they had said.

Later Senator Williams made a short speech criticising Senator Vardaman.

"I decline to answer any questions the senior Senator from Mississippi asks of me," announced Senator Vardaman. "Of course it is well understood that the senior Senator from Mississippi never approves of anything I do. I care absolutely nothing whether I please him or displease him. My conduct is controlled by myself without regard to his opinion of what I do."

For a while the Senate looked for a fresh outbreak but the trouble subsided and the debate proceeded.

Another Victory for Wilson.

The passage of the bill after a bitter struggle that has lasted for several months, was regarded tonight as another victory for President Wilson. Although 13 Republicans came to the aid of the 37 Democrats who voted for the bill on final passage, the President initiated the movement in his party for repeal and it was behind him that many Democrats who voted "aye" lined up on the last test.

There has been no certain promise from the White House that the President will sign the bill with its qualifying amendment, but there has been no declaration that he will veto it and party leaders in the Senate were virtually certain it will be approved.

Eleven Democrats, led by Senator O'Gorman, fought the bill to the end.

The Senate was weary with its long grind of debate, and weary watching for an attempt to gain a parliamentary advantage and by the time Vice President Marshall put the question for the passage of the bill the oratory had died down, the chamber was quiet and the vote was taken with but little excitement. Up to the last minute, no one in the Senate was positive a vote could be taken tonight. As it became more and more apparent, however, that no amendments could pass and that the leaders expected to sit through to the finish, the temptation to make long speeches ceased to be attractive and several votes were taken toward the end without a roll call.

The bill probably will be sent to the House tomorrow and can be taken up immediately if House leaders desire. The evident temper of the Senate to defeat the bill unless amended is expected to have weight with the House and Democrats anxious to put an end to the matter as soon as possible are expected to demand early action.

The Vote as Cast.

The vote in favor of the bill follows:

Democrats—Bankhead, Bryan, Chilton, Clark of Arkansas; Culberson, Fletcher, Gore, Hitchcock, Hughes, James, Johnson, Kern, Lea, Lee, Lewis, Martin, Myers, Overman, Owen, Pittman, Pomerene, Saulsbury, Shafroth, Sheppard, Shively, Simmons, Smith, of Arizona; Smith, of Georgia; Smith, of Maryland; Smith, of South Carolina; Stone, Swanson, Thompson, Thornton, West, White, Williams—37.

Republicans—Brandegee, Burton, Colt, Crawford, Gronna, Kenyon, McCumber, McLean, Nelson, Norris, Root, Sterling, Sherman—13.

Total—50.

The vote against the bill:

Democrats—Ashurst, Chamberlain, Lane, Martine, Newlands, O'Gorman, Ransdell, Reed, Vardaman, Thomas, Shields—11.

Republicans—Borah, Brady, Bristow, Burleigh, Catron, Clapp, Clark, of Wyoming; Cummins, Dillingham, Dupont, Goff, Jones, LaFollette, Lippitt, Page, Perkins, Smith, of Michigan; Smoot, Sutherland, Townsend, Warren, Weeks, Works—23.

Progressive—Poindexter.

Total—35.

The question of making the Panama Canal free to American vessels was brought to the front when the House on May 23, 1912, incorporated in the act providing for the establishment of civil government in the Canal Zone a provision authorizing the President to charge tolls to vessels using the canal, with a proviso exempting American coastwise vessels from such charges. President Taft, in a message to Congress had urged the exemption. The bill had been reported to the House providing tolls for all vessels, but the exemption provision was adopted as an amendment. This amendment was in the bill as it went to the Senate.

Britain Filed Protest.

Before the bill passed the Senate Great Britain, on July 11, 1912, filed a formal protest against the proposed exemption. The note transmitted to the State Department contended:

"The British government thinks that to allow American vessels to pass through the canal without the payment of tolls would be to violate the Hay-Pauncefote treaty whether the tolls are not collected, or whether if collected they are refunded. As to coastwise trade, the British government thinks it would be difficult to frame a provision which would not do injustice to their interests."

The British note of protest started a lengthy diplomatic correspondence on the subject. Great Britain throughout claimed that the United States could not, under the terms of the treaty, make toll exemption of any vessels, whether its own, or of other nations. Secretary Knox, who conducted the correspondence for the United States, in several lengthy notes contended that the exemption of American coastwise shipping was in no way a discrimination against other traffic using the canal. He asserted that the exemption was in the nature of a subsidy, paid, not by imposing the tolls for certain American vessels upon other ships passing through the canal, but by the American taxpayers themselves in paying for the maintenance of the canal.

OVERTON W. PRICE COMMITS SUICIDE NEAR ASHEVILLE.

Was Vice President National Conservation Association.

Asheville, N. C., June 11.—Overton Westfeld Price, vice president of the National Conservation Association, aged 38, ended his life at Rugby Grange, in Henderson county, 15 miles from Asheville, this afternoon at 4 o'clock, by firing a pistol ball through his brain. Death was instantaneous, life being extinct when the 10-year-old son of the deceased ran into the room to find his father stretched on the floor.

The deed was committed in the room occupied for years by his mother and in the house occupied by her family for 50 years. Mr. Price arrived with his family from his home at Alexandria, Va., at 10 o'clock this morning with the expressed intention of spending the summer her to regain his lost health.

A wrecked nervous system and ill health for many months is given as the reason for the deed. His finances are reported to be in excellent condition and no intimation was given that he intended taking his own life.

Mr. Price took a prominent part in the Ballinger-Pinchot forestry dispute, being a personal friend of Mr. Pinchot and of ex-President Roosevelt. He left the forestry service of the government when Mr. Pinchot was removed.

RESOLUTE WINS SIXTH RACE BY SMALL MARGIN

Vanitie Crossed First But Lost the Run

Time Allowance Given Yacht Resolute Defeats the Bronz Craft—Time Was One Minute and Sixteen Seconds.

Sandy Hook, N. Y., June 11.—Her time allowance of three minutes and thirteen seconds today gave the yacht Resolute the sixth race with the Vanitie, sailed in the lightest of airs over a thirty-mile triangular course. The Vanitie led at the finish by one minute and 57 seconds, but the Resolute was awarded the race on corrected time by one minute and 16 seconds.

The Defiance, the third cup defending aspirant, made no egort to race today, as her sails need re-cutting and her mast requires alterations.

The Vanitie today once more showed that in reaching she is minutes faster than the Resolute. She pulled out a lead of more than four minutes at the turn and was doing well on the second leg, also a reach, until she ran into a soft spot, when the Resolute almost caught her.

The fight up the wind to the finish was the finest struggle in which the two yachts have engaged. The Resolute weathered the Vanitie at one time but lost her pride of place a few minutes later and was 200 yards astern when the Vanitie luged across the line.

On the first leg both boats, Vanitie leading, slipped through the water as if they had motors kicking behind. Vanitie turned the first mark four minutes and forty-one seconds to the good. There was only one miiute and 40 seconds between the yachts at the second turn.

The Vanitie drew away gradually then, but could not gain enough to save the penalty which her larger body and sail spread had imposed upon her. The yachts will race tomorrow.

NO, IT WAS NOT HOTTEST.

Thermometer Yesterday Registered Maximum of Only 88—Rain.

"Whew, ain't it hot?"

Well, yes, everybody thought so yesterday but the weather bureau hardly confirms the suspicion. From the meteorological data for the 24 hours ended last night at 8 o'clock, the maximum temperature for the day is given at only 88, while the minimum for the period was 70 degrees. The mean temperature was 79 degrees. Anybody yesterday would have guessed that the heat registered 95 degrees or above, but from the report of the weather bureau, it would seem that it was old General Humidity instead of General Torridity that had control of the situation.

The weather map yesterday morning indicated that decidedly warm weather continued from the Gulf coast northward across the interior with maximum temperatures of 90 or more over a large area. Local rains fell in the southern, central and northwestern sections, but in the Wilmington district the only indication of moisture was at Charlotte where on Wednesday night there was nearly an inch of rainfall. In the Vicksburg, Miss., district heavy falls were Greenville, 1.20; Vicksburg, 1.00, and Yazoo City, 1.00. The Augusta, Atlanta, Montgomery, Mobile, Memphis, New Orleans and Houston districts also reported local showers.

STATE CONVENTION OF B. Y. P. U. HAS BUSY DAY

Seventy-Five of the 125 Locals Are Represented.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—The first business session of the annual convention of the North Carolina Baptist Young People's Union, meeting here with the First Baptist church, convened at 9:15 o'clock this morning, there being 250 or more delegates in attendance. Rev. W. C. Barrett, of Gastonia, made an address on "The Pastor and the Young People," that outlined methods of co-operation that the convention heartily approved.

Prof. B. P. Marshbanks, of Buie's Creek Academy, delighted the convention with a talk on the B. Y. P. U. work in the Baptist secondary schools, a field that he declared to be especially important for the demonimation and for the schools.

General Secretary Arthur Flake, of Mississippi, led a general conference on young people's work, in which very many of the delegates joined, exchanging views as to best methods of quickening interest and personal work in the local unions. A number of the members of the local union at Wakefield gave a demonstration of the method of the union in conducting the missionary meeting for June, the method being declared to be an ideal one worthy of emulation.

During a short afternoon session the Olive Chapel Union gave a demonstration of a model method of conducting the prescribed devotional meeting for June. And there was an open conference on Union work led by Secretary Flake, of Mississippi.

The night session was featured by devotional exercises led by Rev. I. M. Mercer, of Rocky Mount, a second address by Dr. Weston Bruner, of Atlanta, on "Soul Winning," and one by Dr. Livingston Johnson on "The Cultivation of the Denominational Spirit." The convention continues through Friday.

There are 125 local unions in the State and 75 of these are represented in the convention. The State membership is about 4,000 and the work being accomplished is most gratifying to the leaders and the denomination.

Raleigh, N. C., June 10.—The annual convention of the North Carolina Baptist Young People's Union opened in the First Baptist church tonight, and a record attendance is expected by tomorrow forenoon, when the regular business sessions begin.

Devotional and welcome services were held tonight. Rev. C. H. Durham, of Winston-Salem, is conducting devotional services. There was an address of welcome by Clyde Douglass, president of the union of the First Baptist church, and a hearty response by State Secretary J. D. Moore. Thereafter Dr. Weston Bruner, of Atlanta, made a stirring address on "Soul Winning."

BURLINGTON POSTOFFICE FIGHT WAXES WARM.

But It Is Predicted That Editor Crowson Will Win.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 10.—With the arrival here today of O. F. Crowson and the expected appearance tomorrow of the backers of J. C. Freeman and C. L. Love, the postoffice fight for the Burlington job is only exceeded by Washington weather which is 104 in the shade. Love wired Major Stedman tonight that he is a candidate and that his papers will be here shortly. The controversy will be settled Monday night and, unless all signs fail, O. F. Crowson will win in a walk.

An unusually large number of letters reached here today from prominent Democrats asking that Crowson be named to succeed Mr. Williamson. This, coupled with the fact that Postmaster General Burleson is desirous of having Crowson named, makes the fight look pretty good for the Burlington editor. Mr. Crowson returned to Burlington tonight. He will be here again in a few days with a formidable document attesting to his Democracy and unfailing service to his party.

Mr. A. Vermont, superintendent of the Smithfield high school, was here today. He sails tomorrow for Europe where he will make a study of educational conditions abroad.

Friends of Congressman Kirkpatrick in North Carolina will regret to learn that he has been defeated for Congress in the Iowa primaries.

To be Held November 3 to 6—Preparations.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, N. C., une 11.—November 3, 4, 5 and 6 are the dates on which the next Edgecombe county fair will be held, according to an announcement made by Secretary T. B. Jacocks, of the Fair association today, and already the various members of the association have started to work to make the affair the biggest success. The premium list has already been prepared and it is much larger than last year and is most thorough in the matter of awards.

More departments are represented and necessarily more awards will be made. The matter of selecting the judges for the entries is progressing satisfactorily and practically all of the experts who have been asked to come here for the four days have signified their willingness to attend. This insures that the awards will be made by the foremost men in the various departments in the State and will leave no room for criticism or argument by the entrants.

PISTOL DUEL AT MANCHESTER.

Two White Men Shot—One Taken to Hospital.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., June 1.—Two white men, Neil Black, Jr., and a Mr. Jernigan, engaged in a pistol duel about 10 o'clock Wednesday night at Manchester, a station on the A. C. L. Railroad 12 miles west of Fayetteville. Both men were shot, Black receiving a pistol ball in the abdomen which passed through the body, going out at the back. Jernigan was also shot, but less seriously wounded.

Dr. R. A. Powell was summoned from Fayetteville by 'phone and went to the scene. Finding Black in a serious condition, he brought him in an automobile to Highsmith Hospital here, where an operation was performed. He is getting on well tonight. Drs. Jordan and West, of Cumberland General Hospital, attended Jernigan.

It is difficult to get particulars beyond the fact that Black, Jernigan and another man, who has not been found, were drinking together, it is stated, and got into a row. No arrests have yet been made.

CRAIG NAMES STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS

Joe Underwood Sixth District Member.

Dissention Among State Officers as to Concrete Walk About Horne Monument for Chief Justice Clark's Benefit.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—Governor Craig announces the appointment of the State Board of Elections as follows: Wilson G. Lamb, Williamston; R. C. Claywell, Morganton; J. B. Underwood, Fayetteville; W. J. Davis, Hendersonville, and Clarence Call, Wilkesboro. Colonel Lamb continues chairman of the board. Mr. Claywell has served several terms as secretary. Mr. Call represents the Republicans and Mr. Davis the Bull Moose party.

Dissension Among State Officers.

The erection of the Horne monument to the North Carolina women of the Confederacy on Capitol Square in front of the new State administration building, has precipitated a keen dissension among the State officers composing the State Board of Public Buildings and Grounds over whether a new concrete walk shall be made from one of the main walks at the Bagley monument straight to the Women's monument for the special convenience of Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the Supreme Court, in walking from his home on Halifax street to the new quarters of the court in the administration building. Augustus Lukeman, the artist who designed and located the monument, insists that such a walk will detract greatly from the appearance of the monument and its environment. Secretary of State J. Bryan Grimes and others of the board strongly oppose the walk. However, the board voted to let Judge Clark have it. Judge Clark insists it will save him from walking 80 yards four times per day. Workmen started to build the walk today, but were held up by the Governor and Col. Grimes, at least until later in the summer, on the ground that the Chief Justice will not have to do so much walking while court is not in session. It is said the fight is not ended.

Leaf Tobacco Sales.

Only five leaf tobacco markets in North Carolina reported leaf tobacco sales on warehouse floor for the month of May, according to the report of the State Board of Agriculture just issued. These were Reidsville 116,956 pounds; Winston-Salem 67,218; Durham 25,620; Mount Airy, 454; and Stoneville, 350 pounds. The sales for May, 1913, were only 26,704 pounds.

Some Fine Wheat.

The State Department of Agriculture received today from the farm of the Central Hospital for the insane here specimens of wheat from a 70-acre field that are especially fine, the tallest bundle measuring six feet with heads from five to six inches long, especially well filled out. There are three varieties, Purple Straw, Fulcoster and Red Wonder. The farm superintendent expects the wheat crop to thrash out an average of 40 or more bushels per acre.

PREPARING FOR SOLDIER BOYS AT CAMP GLENN.

Altogether About 3,000 Men Will Go to Morehead.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 10.—The disagreement of the War Department and Governor Cole Blease which resulted in the calling off of the maneuver camp for the ninth army division at Isle of Palms, Charleston, and the more recent calling off of the camp transferred to Augusta, Ga., will mean that about a third of the State troops which were to be sent out of North Carolina this year will instead go to Camp Glenn, 65 miles due east of here, and preparations now in progress there indicate that the largest number of men to ever attend a military event in times of peace in North Carolina will be assembled.

Additional side tracks will be laid by the Norfolk Southern Railroad at Camp Glenn to accommodate the three regiments of infantry, cavalry and sanitary troops that will be assembled there at various times during July and August. Altogether, about 3,000 men will go into camp.

A company of regular infantry will camp with the Tar Heel infantrymen and set the militiamen the example in soldierly things. The distinctness of the services will be maintained, however, and there will be no mixing of the two bodies in a formal way. The regular officers and enlisted men will go through various evolutions, give lectures and demonstrate rifle efficiency for the edification of their amateur brothers.

Cavalry will drill at Camp Glenn with the first batch of the foot troops to go into camp, the Second regiment. The two troops of the National Guard of this State have received considerable expert instruction by officers and enlisted men of the army, and will put their skill to a practical test in the field, on ground well adapted for cavalry exercises.

Besides the "doughboys" and hussars in khaki, one of the best equipped and trained militia sanitary outfits in the entire country will train and man the hospital at the camp. Both ambulance and field hospital men will be in the corps.

Every officer and man in the brigade will be equipped with the new regulation uniform of the army—olive drab cotton clothing, tan shoes and the Montana peak hat. It will be the sportiest array of men ever seen in a militia camp in this State. The Guard's preparedness for war, officers state, will be demonstrated at this encampment as never before, and they predict that the militiamen's efficiency as compared with the regulars will surprise many a civilian who does not take more than passing interest in his State troops.

BUILDING BOOM AT DUNN.

Crops in Fine Shape—To Vote on Roads Bonds.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., June 10.—There are now in course of construction in Dunn brick buildings that when completed will total more than $115,000 for initial cost. The First National Bank has begun work on a four-story fire proof building, modern in every respect, with steam heat and elevators; two large tobacco warehouses costing over $8,000 each; five modern brick stores, and two of the handsomest churches in this part of the State. The buildings will be completed and ready for occupancy in the early fall.

There are over ten handsome homes now in course of construction and others contemplated in the near future.

The unusually dry season has affected the prospect for the tobacco crop very seriously, but other crops are looking fine, as the farmers of this section are very progressive and planted their crops and got up a stand before the drought set in.

The good roads enthusiasts are working hard to carry a bond issue of $30,000 for Averasboro township, which already has a road district and has made great progress toward building roads all over the township, having built about 55 miles of road already.

"ALFALFA BILL" COMING.

Will Feature Guilford Battleground Celebration.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., June 10.—The annual celebration at Guilford Battle-Ground on July 4 this year will be featured by the presence and address of Hon. W. H. Murray, widely known as "Alfalfa Bill" and at present a member of the United States Congress. By reason of being chairman of the constitutional convention he is referred to as the father of Oklahoma's constitution. It is said that a letter mailed in Oklahoma anywhere will be forwarded immediately to his postoffice and delivered to him. In Congress he is very popular.

Another feature of this year's celebration will be an aeroplane manned by Prof. F. J. Ferrell, of San Antonio, Texas, known as "wizard of the air." He will give a free aerial demonstration during the day.

Congressman Charles M. Stedman, of this congressional district, will also be a speaker at the celebration. There will be short addresses by others.

The railroads have already offered special round trip rates for the event and all indications promise the largest crowd in years for the celebration.

The Day of Fake Advertising is Passing

As a matter of self-protection, as well as protection of the public, we are downright glad to see the dawn of honest advertising.

The store that has honest merchandise at right prices need not hesitate to tell the truth.

For Example, we never had the least difficulty in advertising Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes for men. They contain so much that is superaltively good that the plain truth about them is the simplest kind of a story.

But after all they tell their own story better than cold type can tell it. If you, Mr. Man, are not familiar with that story and the clothes that tell it, don't you wait another day to hear it.

Incidentally, the Spring and Summer showing of Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes is ready. To be found here exclusively.

In order to head off some movements it is necessary to put the head of the movement out of business by destroying his influence and power for misleading people.

The militant suffragettes in England are engaged in a kind of insurrection. It would be bad if such a hysterical lot of feminists would arm themselves and actually go on the warpath.

A social worker writes: "Ascertain for yourself how many men are lying around your town." We have no idea how many fellows do that after they come back from a fishing frolic, but besides them there may be others who "stretch the blanket" every time they get a chance.

The South American mediators have been right on the job, and they only await a few words from General Carranza. It was none too sudden for Huerta but the celerity with which mediation has proceeded has outstripped the gait of the Constitutionalist leader.

The Richmond Journal wants to know "how far can an official of the city government go in the matter of using his influence over those under him in behalf of a candidate for office." Propriety would dictate that he should not go very far, but those who do not pay much attention to propriety go the whole limit.

Over in South Carolina they are training for a lively senatorial race. To add to the gayety of the situation, W. P. Pollock, Esq., of Cheraw, has "yielded to the importunities" of his friends and will enter the race. He has never been a supporter of the Blease administration, he announces, which may or may not serve him well in the estimation of the electorate over there.

A clam says nothing and is never known to quarrel and chew the rag, but when it comes to self-defense a clam knows how to shut down on a preying enemy. In a Washington cafe a few days ago, a clam whipped a rat. The bivalve had opened its shell to get a little fresh air and the rat, scenting a good morsel within poked its nose in, with the result that the clam shut down on the rodent's proboscis and meanwhile sawed wood and said nothing. It was up to the rat to squeal and make all the noise, and that is precisely what it did. The only racket made by the clam was by holding on and letting the rat writhe around and bump its shell against the floor. A quiet fellow with a good grip is never the man to tackle.

When the Horne monument to the war-time women of North Carolina was unveiled at Raleigh on Wednesday, Mrs. Marshall Williams, of Faison, presented to the Daughters of the Confederacy a handsome oil portrait of Col. Ashley Horne, to whose generosity and bounty the gift of the monument to the State is due. The presentation of the portrait was an affair confined to North Carolina's splendid women, and the Raleigh News and Observer says there was a half hour of speaking that beat that of men. We believe it, for many of North Carolina's gifted women can deliver speeches that are peculiar for classical expression, beauty of phraseology, strength of text and the charm of delivery. Oh, well, North Carolina has women orators, and Mrs. Williams is both an orator and an artist. That gifted woman's portraiture work is marvelous for its fidelity to exact reproduction and its deftness and superiority of execution.

NATION-WIDE PROHIBITION.

Ravenous demand for the limelight depends upon whether we are in it to our disadvantage or whether some other fellow has to flounder around in it where he may give a good imitation of a fellow who is to take part in a moving picture play. The demand for public men to come out in the open has become a sort of new political principle, but there are Congressmen and a large class of politicians who prefer to keep their light under a bushel for fear some gentle breeze will blow it out.

The country will be pained, however, to know that there is a kind of limelight that some of their Congressmen are disposed to dodge just as long as they can, and getting in it on the Nation-wide prohibition question seems to be one time that more than one member of the House at Washington desires to side-step the public glare.

The Hobson resolution providing for a constitutional referendum on Nation-wide prohibition was before the House rules committee on Wednesday and the committee adopted a rule postponing action on the bill for three weeks. That indicated that the Nation-wide article is not regarded as urgent at all, and there are some who believe that it was a kind of strangling process for the bill. In fact, the Star's Washington dispatches tell us that the oponents of the Hobson measure were jubilant over the action of the rules committee, and are gleefully proclaiming that when the amendment is taken up for consideration again, the committee will adopt a rule forcing immediate consideration of the Hobson referendum.

The reason for that is that just as sure as the House acts now, it's all night with Nation-wide prohibition. Hobson sees it that way, too, so he is in for postponement so his pet measure won't have its goose cooked at this session. He wants it to have same showing, hence ne trusts that postponement will leave the matter over for some more propitious time. However, the enemies of the prohibition amendment to the constitution want to drag it right in for consideration now so they can wrap it up and put it in Davy Jones' locker.

The laugh, however, just now is on the members of the Rules Committee which wrestled over the proposition and postponed action. In other words, the committee side-stepped by a vote of five to four, and the funny part of it is that each member was pledged to secrecy about everybody's vote but his own. Each member of the committee was allowed to announce how he voted if he so desired, or to say nothing and thus be secure against publicity at this time. The present time is rather inauspicious because the election takes place next November, so publicity now might be disastrous to some member who hankers for re-election more than he does Nation-wide prohibition.

North Carolina's Representative Pou is ranking member on the Rules Committee and he declined on Wednesday to discuss his vote or to be quoted on the Hobson amendment. He says he will later prepare a statement outlining his views. What they are no one but himself and the eight other members know. "Mum's the word" with the members, for it is considered that the proposed prohibition amendment is about the hardest political nut which Congressmen have to crack, for it matters not how they vote it will hurt them in their districts.

You can speak about politicians having the courage of their convictions or the termerity of their predilections, but when a Congressman does not know but what it will be a "Katy scrape" with him, it takes more nerve than a timorous Congressman has. Representative Sam Hardwick, of Georgia, had sand enough in his craw to issue a long statement saying how he stands, and that is to the effect that he is opposed to the passage of the Hobson amendment on the ground that it is a local or State matter only. He frankly declared that he favored reporting a rule because he knows that at this time the amendment will not get the necessary two-thirds vote of the House. It is said a majority of the House will vote for the amendment, but as that will fall short of the two-thirds majority, the question of National prohibition probably will be dead for years to come. As to the danger to Congressmen, a North Carolina Representative doubtless sizes up the matter correctly, when he declares:

"The big trouble with prohibition in politics is that prohibitionists as an organization never get out and work for a man who is with them, unless he is opposed to a man who is against them. But they work everlastingly against a man who votes against them. If you are with them they classify you as being on their side and pay no further attention to you. On the other hand, a 'wet' man will walk 20 miles in the night to do you a favor if you are for him. The wets work for their people in politics, while prohibition activities are confined to campaigns against their enemies."

That Congressman's view simply is that prohibitionists might fall down on their friends at a critical moment, while the other side will never neglect any trail to get a prohibition Congressman's goat. At the same time, a man may just as well do as Senator Vance used to say: "Stand to the rack, fodder or no fodder." That is the homely law and gospel covering the courage of one's convictions.

U. S. ENGINEER OFFICE, WILMINGton, N. C., June 10 1914 Sealed proposals for about 1576 tons of steel sheet piling and accessories will be received at this office until 12 M., July 10, 1914, and then publicly opened. Information on application. H. W. Stickle, Maj., Engrs.

OUR OWN OLD INITIATIVE.

Public sentiment, loudly voiced, is the old fashioned and honorable initiative in North Carolina, although the General Assembly actually passed a State-wide prohibition referendum act in response to the formal petition of the people. That, of course, was the despised initiative in actual effect, because of the popular will voiced in petition, although no legislative act specifically provides for the initiative in accordance with law. New counties are formed by the initiative of the people, and a whole lot of legislation is passed by the General Assembly when the people go after the legislators for what the public demands. The initiative in North Carolina is going after something and getting it when the people get tired waiting for it.

We only mention this to unload a smile at the expense of the really large anti-initiative sentiment in the State, whereas the people exercise it by their own circuitous route whenever they get good and ready. It's a crude form, but it gets right there now and then when the popular will has a vimful "kick" to it. We might observe that about the biggest popular initiative we have ever seen since we have been seeing things with both eyes, was the State-wide "movement" for freight justice for North Carolina. We don't know whether you have ever thought of it or not, but "movement" is one of the aliases of initiative, and to tell you the truth that one popular initiative (alias movement) resulted in a special session of the General Assembly and brought the railroads to terms in a compromise agreement which has secured lower inter-State rates for North Carolina. Of course, inter-State rates are peculiarly within the province of the Inter-State Commerce Commission at Washington, for they are involved in inter-State commerce, but the initiative of the people of North Carolina also carried the day before the big National commission as well as in the State.

There isn't anything serious about this. It is intended for humor, which may not be detected if we don't stick a pin here so it may be noticed. What is said here is because of an overflow of hilarity at the grave satisfaction expressed in more or less imaginary conservative circles over the attitude of the late or recent Democratic State Convention. On the contrary, however, grave, gay and peculiar Tar Heels seem to like in one form what they despise in another, and they've got their own kind of initiative and referendum and about everything but the recall with a tug hawser attached to it.

Of course, in their own way, the recall has been pulled off successfully under another name. For instance, when a long suffering people see that a Federal office-holder seems to be glued to his office, his recall is worked up in a kind and gentle manner by suggesting, requesting or demanding his resignation. Some officeholders hate to turn loose a good thing after they have been accustomed to tasting it so long, but they finally yield to the inevitable, to keep us Democrats from leading an unhappy life on the outside.

Finally, when it comes to the recall, Wilmington took the cake in 1898 when it decided that a mayor and ten aldermen were "undesirable citizens." They were compelled to get down and out to save trouble, and the alias for it here in Wilmington is the "revolution." It was the "recall" with a vengeance, but since then Wilmington is always more or less happy and serene till the city election rolls around every two years or the City Council does more rag chewing than business.

Nevertheless, Wilmington is a very happy city, and all North Carolinians are joyous and contented till somebody bobs up and wants some new fangled idea which a staid and steady people have heard of as an imported "noxious nostrum." So long as anything has the reputation of being "a nostrum" it will take not less than 25 years for it to be swallowed in North Carolina.

RAILROAD VS. TOWN.

Recently the Seaboard Air Line obtained an injunction restraining the town of Laurinburg from opening two streets across the railroad tracks. It is a temporary restrainer and only holds good till the merits of the matter can be passed upon by the courts, but the Laurinburg Exchange declares that unless the injunction is dissolved it will work great inconvenience upon the people of the town.

The Exchange explains that "access in the section affected is already limited and when Maine street is torn up in the paving work, the situation will become more acute." The fact is, it will be difficult to get into the section of the town referred to, and certainly that would be a great temporary inconvenience, though it would be all the worse if it were to be permanent. For that reason The Exchaige says "it is to be hoped that the town and the railroad will get together and that right and convenience will be accorded due consideration by the courts."

For the sake of the railroad as well as the town, the matter ought to be adjusted without arousing hurtful antagonism. The railroad has only the right-of-way through the town, and that does not carry the right to obstruct the extension of its streets or impede its growth. In fact, it is to the interest of both the road and the town for the latter to have the widest opportunity to stretch out and grow, so any position taken by the railroad that will prevent that ought to be relinquished under some safe agreement in the interest of all concerned.

As a matter of fact, the courts, under the law and in accordance with court decisions, would have to rule that the railroad will have to conform to the regulations of the town and not the town to the regulations of the railroad. Hence an amicable adjustment would be better, and while it is being arranged it should be such a one as will conserve the mutual interests of both parties. The chief aim should be to avoid useless antagonism, of which there is already too much now.

AS TO CITY FINANCES.

We are thoroughly in sympathy with Councilman Chadwick's "note of warning," if it may so be called, at the meeting of the municipal board on Wednesday, that the appropriations for the present year should not exceed a conservative estimate of the revenues in sight. Already there has been too much reckless abandon in these matters and it is taxing the financial genius of Councilman Chadwick to meet the situation. It might also be observed in passing that he has met the situation thus far well.

When the budget was made up about the first of the present month, it contained appropriations for practically every cent the city sees in sight for next year, and many emergencies will arise from time to time before another fiscal year is here. In this connection, the people of Wilmington doubtless would be interested in knowing just the amount of taxes collected last year. They have been told in the various reports for what it was spent. Here are the figures of city revenues from all sources during the past fiscal year as made up by City Tax Collector White, the total from all sources for the fiscal year ended June 1st having been $334,024.33 from the following sources:

Real and Personal property	$281,876.51
Dealers' License	29,686.28
Vehicles, drays, etc	578.25
Dogs	1,131.25
Rent, opera house	450.00
Automobiles	402.00
Delinquent taxes	4,172.42
Market rents	3,953.73
Pound fees	110.00
Miscellaneous	1,705.24
Scavenger service	6,755.55
Sidewalks	3,086.20
Costs on taxes	110.90
Total	$334,024.33

Thus it will be seen, if the city raises about the same revenue as last year, the tax rate being the same, there will be no money to throw away. Therefore, if Councilman Chadwick's dream of a lowered tax rate is to be realized there must be the strictest economy compatible with efficient service in all branches of the municipal government.

Our old friend Bruce Craven should cheer up about the cold shoulder for the initiative in North Carolina. She has an old initiative of her own and, till it wears out and makes folks laugh, it will be used off and on and then packed away with moth balls till it is needed again.

The people are thinking for themselves and the majority of them think it is a nervy proposition to tax them to enrich those with some special interest which is rooting for protection or subsidies of some description or other, any old thing just so they get it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

In his speech at the meeting of cotton manufacturers yesterday, Mr. Andrew Moore, of Gastonia, practically served notice on the Democratic party that legislation inimical to the mill men had gone far enough, and that the mill men would call a halt. The continual agitation of the labor matter is no doubt much of an irritant to the mill people. It has been settled in the Legislature time and again, but is not permitted to remain settled. The Observer made the point the other day that while the agitators were on hand at the State convention, the mill men were not in evidence to present their side of the case. It would perhaps be the better for the mill men if they should actively take a hand in politics—to fight their own battles in the convention and before the Legislature, and not depend too much on others to do it for them. It would be better for the State at large if not only the mill men but all business men would take more interest in politics. Their activity in political affairs would have a beneficial effect upon the politicians of both parties.—Charlotte Observer.

We suppose that it was most gratifying, the way the Democratic convention leaped upon the initiative and referendum and rent it—or them, if you choose—limb from limb. There can be no smallest particle of doubt as to where the party stands on the initiative and referendum. From the governor down all the heavy artillery of the party was turned upon this offensive proposition, and when the smoke had cleared away the initiative and referendum could have been gathered up only with a scoop. We suppose, we repeat, that it was gratifying—for the thing that chiefly engages our attention is the fact that when the tumult and the shouting over the initiative and referendum died, not only had the initiative and referendum disappeared, in so far as the convention was concerned, but so had nine of the proposed constitutional amendments which the Democratic party had fathered and which guileless persons had therefore inferred it was going to support. A few people will perhaps grieve over the annihilation of the initiative and referendum, but the vast majority of North Carolinians will take theirs out in wondering what secret fault has been found with the abandoned nine that they have been so suddenly cast overboard. Also, the question will arise as to just how the one that was preserved—the six months' school provision—is going to be carried out without the attendant taxation reform.—Greensboro News. (Ind.)

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

In almost every settled community are women who have enjoyed the blessing of this famous remedial and helpful embrocation. Their daughters have grown up to learn of its splendid assistance.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed through in ease and comfort.

Anything that adds so much comfort must be counted as a blessing indeed.

In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradfield Regulator Co., 409 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure you get "Mother's Friend."

WILMINGTON'S BRIGHT FUTURE IS PORTRAYED

Address to Merchants by Mr. Hugh MacRae

Officers Elected at Annual Meeting of Local Merchants Held Last Night in the Masonic Temple —Delegates.

"I would like to see Wilmington made what it ought to become, a great and growing commercial city, and I feel sure that if each one will do his part that my vision of her wonderful possibilities can be made a reality," said Mr. Hugh MacRae in an inspiring address last night before the Wilmington Merchants' Association at their annual meeting in the Masonic Temple. The subject of his address was "Co-operating With One's Customers," but he did not confine this to the narrow channels that frequently characterize a merchant's conception of co-operation. His vision of co-operation is one that would include co-operation along all lines that go to build up a city's resources in every particular.

The three things that he spoke of as being in his mind was first of all to build up what he termed the back country, to establish here a great winter resort and to make this a city beautiful. By carrying out these three ideas he believes that all the other things that are usually thought of as being a part of a great city will come.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. E. H. Munson, who has served so efficiently as the president of the association during the past year. There was an hour given over to an informal discussion of topics of special interest to the members, following which came the election of the officers for the ensuing year. All of the old officers were elected with the exception of the vice president, who did not care to serve. Those elected were as follows:

President—E. H. Munson.
Vice President—E. Bancroft.
Treasurer—Jos. A. Price.
Secretary—Stuart R. Keyes.

Mr. E. H. Munson was elected as delegate to the State convention which meets next week in Durham. Messrs. Munson and Keyes were elected as the representatives of the association in the organization which is now being formed for the purpose of advancing Wilmington's interests, it being the purpose to bring together in what may be called a Wilmington congress, representatives from all the organizations of the city for the discussion of matters that concern the future of the city. Following Mr. MacRae's address refreshments were served.

Mr. E. H. Munson introduced Mr. MacRae as a man who does things instead of talking and spoke of the great pleasure that the association felt in having him present on this occasion.

Using a farm as an illustration, Mr. MacRae showed how essential to the retail merchant it is to build up what may be called his territory. The Wilmington territory, he explained, is all the territory that can be served by her merchants and her business men. For some it will be wider than it will be for others. The farmer in order to be prosperous must put more into his soil than he takes out and the same is true of the merchants or any other business man. In passing Mr. MacRae paid a tribute to the farmers of the country, who, he declared, produce the wealth of the State and who are the bulwark of our civilization. All other business enterprises owe their existence to the increment which they get from the farmer and they should be sure that it is an earned increment.

Comparing Wilmington with historical Venice, who at one time was supreme in the world of commerce, he showed how this city has superior advantages in the way of climate, productivity of soil and in port facilities. With these at our door there should be no parasites, no holding back but rather everyone should put his shoulder to the wheel and help to develop them.

"The Panama Canal belongs to us just as much as it does to anyone else, its usefulness to any port being confined to the use that they make of it, and our advantages are as great or greater than those of any other port in the world, so far as the canal is concerned," he declared.

Taking up affairs a little nearer at home he showed the great need that exists for a bridge across the Cape Fear river at the foot of Market street in order to open up the vast resources that are to be found in Brunswick county and which are today totally undeveloped. Not only would it do that, he said, but it would also open up a highway to Charlotte and other points that would mean much for the future growth of the city. Another need that exists is for a 35-foot channel to the sea in order that the great ships that ply the ocean may come to this port. Still another is the intercoastal canal. The speaker declared that this would at some time in the near future be a reality and he hoped to live to see it.

Continuing he showed that another resource that is needed is healthy conditions in the community. He spoke of the splendid work which Dr. Stiles and his assistants are doing at the Marine Hospital and the work that has just been undertaken by the Rockefeller Commission at Castle Haynes, and in the northern part of the county.

"Another need that exists," he declared, "is a good city government. The one we have isn't good because it is impossible even from a theoretical standpoint for it to be good. I can prove by mathematical calculation that it hasn't one chance in 16 of being efficient."

After discussing the commission form of government he next explained that a good water supply was badly needed and this he thought could be easily gotten at a small cost, if the people would only get together on the proposition instead of talking all the time. Good roads also are needed and money spent this way is always spent wisely because good roads pay for themselves by increasing the value of lands and by bringing people into the

TRAFFIC MATTERS CONSIDERED

Following a meeting of the executive committee at which no matters of public interest, other than a report from the public entertainment committee, was taken up, the Chamber of Commerce was in regular session for June yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the principal matters considered being those from the traffic committee, notably a through passenger train service north and a Pullman service over the Southern Railway from Columbia, S. C., to Asheville, N. C., and the hearing of an interesting talk from Mr. Frank L. Meares, of Seattle, Wash., on the subject of penny letter postage. These matters were largely presented as a matter of information and no definite action was taken.

The meeting was called to order with President M. J. Corbett in the chair and Secretary Howard B. Branch at his post. Among the members in attendance were Messrs. H. McL. Green, J. A. Taylor, H. G. Smallbones, Louis E. Hall, L. Stein, M. C. Hammond, John H. Brown, A. B. Croom, Jr., S. D. Lucas, Chas. A. Price, E. T. Taylor, W. P. Emerson and E. A. Metts.

On account of the unseasonably hot weather and the consequent small attendance, no new business was taken up but under reports of committees, Mr. J. A. Taylor, chairman of the traffic committee, submitted to the chamber as a matter of information what had been done in the matter of the revival of the effort for a through train service from Wilmington to the north and told something of the concerted effort that is being made to have the Southern Railway in connection with the Atlantic Coast Line provide a through Pullman car from Wilmington via Columbia, S. C., to Asheville, N. C. The movement for the latter service has been taken up through petitions sent to all leading towns between Wilmington and Columbia, asking the Southern Railway to inaugurate this service. The petitions are addressed to Mr. S. H. Hardwick, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Railway, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., and they are now being returned to the Wilmington chamber with large endorsements. One from Sumter contains enthusiastic endorsement of the Sumter Chamber of Commerce and it is safe to say that other communities to be benefitted will at once co-operate with the movement.

The petition to Mr. Hardwick sets out that the citizens sak that he co-operate with the A. C. L. Railroad Company in supplying a through sleeping car service from Wilmington to Asheville, via Columbia and return. It is pointed out that the service is very much needed by this section of the country and should not fail to develop a considerable travel between the mountain section of North Carolina and this portion of the Carolinas. The territory between Wilmington and Columbia has no means of an easy access to the mountains and the through sleeper service which the Southern Railway operates between Charleston and the North Carolina mountain sections is of no avail to the territory between Wilmington and Columbia.

It is significantly stated in the petition that in through freight business the Southern Railway enjoys a considerable part of patronage from this section and the petitioners feel that this request should receive sympathetic consideration, in which event the petitioners have no fear of the outcome.

Mr. Taylor went very thoroughly into the matter of the proposed through train service to the north, stating that the Atlantic Coast Line was not willing to put on an entirely new train along the lines suggested, but he thought the service could be accomplished by the elimination of trains 90 and 91 from the north arriving at 1:15 A. M., and leaving at 3:40 A. M. He characterized the latter as a "paper train" and explained that by a change of the schedule of the northbound train now leaving here at 8:40 so as to leave not later than 7 A. M., and operated on a fair schedule to Goldsboro, the "paper interests" would still be served and the public interest would not suffer. This matter had been thoroughly gone over by the traffic committee before and he was merely submitting the matter now for information and in order that if there was opposition, this might be given voice. He explained the through service desired as a first-class train with Pullman accommodations leaving the city about 9 P. M., daily and arriving at about 8 o'clock in the morning. This would allow a traveler to leave New York at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and reach Wilmington about 8 A. M.; then to transact business here and leave at 3:40 in the afternoon for the south which is not possible now. This would be about the same service as the city enjoyed before the "Short Cut" was built. Mr. Taylor asked for any objections to the terms of the proposed service, but there was no objection and his report of "progress" was received with the hope of ultimate consummation of the efforts for a better through service.

Penny Letter Postage.

Mr. Frank L. Meares, a former Wilmingtonian, now of Seattle, Wash., was present as a guest of the Chamber and through its courtesy, addressed members of the body in the interest of the National One-Cent Letter Postage Association, of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Meares gave a history of the movement for a lower first-class postage rate and told something of the objects and aims of the organization, which he is representing here incidental to a trip to his old home. He gave some interesting figures analyzing the postal operations of the government and left some literature in the Chamber for the information of any who might be interested.

Coming of Secretary Daniels.

While the matter was not brought up at the general meeting of the chamber, Mr. E. T. Taylor, chairman of the Public Entertainment Committee, appeared yesterday afternoon before the Executive Committee of the organization and officially informed members of the expected visit from Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, who will be a guest of the State Press Association upon the occasion of its annual meeting at Wrightsville Beach, on June 24th. Mr. Taylor explained that the coming of the Secretary would rather enlarge the activities of the Public Entertainment Committee in connection with the coming of the Press Association. He was assured of the thorough co-operation of the Chamber in any movement looking to the proper entertainment of the guests on this occasion. Chairman Taylor has called a meeting of his committee to be held jointly with the Press Finance Committee in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce on this (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, by which time it is expected that further details of Secretary Daniels' visit will be known and proper arrangements may be made for his entertainment.

The call for this meeting was originally sent out for Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, but Chairman Taylor asks that his committee meet this afternoon instead.

FINALS AT I.O.O.F. ORPHANAGE

Ten Students Graduate from Institution—Interesting Exercises There on Wednesday—Addresses.

The splendid work being done at the Odd Fellows' Orphan Home at Goldsboro is no closer to any section of the State than Wilmington by reason of the great strength of the order here and because until a few years ago the inmates of the institution always enjoyed their annual vacations at the seaside resorts near this city; also for the further reason that the "father" of the home, the late Mr. Nathaniel Jacobi, was for many years one of the most esteemed residents here.

The closing exercises of the school in Goldsboro have been in progress there during the past three days with the graduating exercises on Monday. Mr. Marcus W. Jacobi, one of the trustees of the Home, returned yesterday morning from the commencement, which was in every way a delightful success. The exercises were held in the auditorium of the Jacobi Memorial Building and were largely attended. The programme on Wednesday afternoon consisted of the reading of the essays by the ten members of the graduating class as follows: Miss Ethel Biggs, "How Moving Pictures Can Help to Promote Sanitation;" Aaron Thomas Bowen, "Naval and Military Uses of Electricity"; Miss Lucetta Gallop, "Vocational Education for Girls"; Miss Maude Jennette, "Cause, Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis"; Carl Jennette, "Newspaper Morals"; Joseph Rose, "The Advantages of a Free Country"; Miss Anna Suther, "Should the Household Arts be Taught in Our Schools;" Horace Thomas, "The Electric Lamp and Lighting"; Bryan Thompson, "The Economic Necessity of Trade Unionism"; Bryan Wagoner, "Good Roads as a Factor in Lessening the High Cost of Living."

At the evening session the exercises opened with a greeting by the class, followed by prayer and the address of the president of the class, Carl Jeannette. The class history was read by Bryan Thompson; the class poem, by Aaron Thomas Bowen; the class prophecy, by Miss Lucetta Gallop; the statistics of the class, by Joseph Rose; last will and testament, by Miss Anna Suther; the valedictory being delivered by Carl Jennette.

It was especially pleasing that the annual literary address should have been made by Hon. William Franklin Evans, member of the General Assembly from Pitt county, now grand master of the grand lodge, and himself a former ward of the Home. He was heard with rare interest and pleasure.

The literary address was followed by the presentation of Bibles given by Mr. C. B. Edwards, of Raleigh, to members of the graduating class. The diplomas were delivered by Past Grand Master Marcus W. Jacobi, of Wilmington, chairman of the board of trustees. The exercises concluded with the awarding of prizes, a song by the graduating class and the benediction.

The class motto is, "No Palms Without Victory"; the flower is the carnation, and the class colors, black and gold.

DOG AND RATTLER.

Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur's Pointer Hero in Pitched Battle.

In a matching of wits between a five-foot rattle snake with 13 rattles and a button, and Mr. M. F. H. Gouverneur's pointer, Sochinski, as he is familiarly known, yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock on the Castle Haynes road, near the station, the dog came off the victor and as a result of the bout Mr. Gouverneur brought with him to the city last night about the most venomous-looking reptile that the force of The Star has seen since prohibition went into effect about four years ago.

But, seriously, the encounter between the snake and the dog was really remarkable. Mr. Gouverneur had driven his machine out to one side of the road and was inspecting some farming operations he had in progress there, when returning to the automobile his attention was attracted by the furious pounding of the snake's tail, first on one side of the dog and then the other. Mr. Gouverneur was certain that his dog was gone, but a little closer inspection revealed the fact that the pointer had gamely seized the reptile right back of the head and had buried his teeth into the rattler's head and neck. Upon the approach of his master, Sechinski gave up his hold on the snake and sprang backwards in a whining, nervous sort of way. The snake was left practically inert by the roadside and the heel of another gentleman passing on the snake's head soon put him out of the running. The dog, strange to relate, was not bitten and aparently suffered no ill consequences from his experience with the big rattler. Mr. Gouverneur will preserve the snake's hide and rattles as a testimonial to his dog's supremacy over the most-dreaded of the forest's reptiles.

Applications of new teachers to fill vacancies were not taken up at this meeting. Some of the teachers from both Union and Hemenway will be assigned to duty in the new schools in the northern and southern part of the city.

The work of forming districts for these schools is being undertaken in a systematic way. The name, age and home address of each child of school age who has been this year enrolled in any of the public schools of the city has been obtained. In a short while the number of children and the grades which will be assigned to the Southside and Northside schools will be available, and after this is done, the enrollment in each of these buildings can be made, and the necessary number of teachers elected.

The resignations from the High School which were presented were those of Mr. Thomas P. Nash, of the department of mathematics; Miss Alice Atkinson, teacher of French and German, and Miss Mary A. Grant, teacher of botany, agriculture and other sciences.

SOUTHERN TEXTILE ASS'N.

Semi-annual Meeting at Isle of Palms —Mr. Woods Attends.

Mr. W. A. Woods, superintendent of the Delgado Mills, this city, left yesterday afternoon for Charleston and the Isle of Palms where today he will attend the semi-annual convention of the Southern Textile Association which will be in session today and tomorrow. Between 500 and 600 prominent cotton mill men from all over the South are expected to be in attendance and Mr. Woods stated before leaving that he expected to invite the association to meet at Wrightsville Beach for its 1915 summer meeting. The convention at the Isle of Palms is expected to be one of the largest of the number to be held at that resort this season.

The members of the Southern Textile Association are drawn from cotton manufacturing machinery and allied trades men. This convention is a semi-annual affair, the more weigthy business matters being transacted at the winter meeting. Pleasure and recreation are looked for in the summer gathering, and surf bathing is held out as an especially attractive feature of this convention.

Begin Work on Record House.

Workmen began tearing down the old buildings at Red Cross and Nutt streets yesterday, preparatory to beginning work on the large Record house which will be built by the Atlantic Coast Line. The new structure will be used for storing the records of the railroad company. The Inter-State Commerce Commission requires that all records for a number of years back shall be kept so that they can be had for reference. In the course of a year they become quite bulky, making it necessary for the Coast Line to have a separate building in which to keep them. The new building will be absolutely fireproof in every particular.

UNIQUE WEDDING IN ROCKY MOUNT CHURCH.

Rocky Mount, N. C., June 10.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning a unique wedding was solemnized in the beautifully decorated Philathea room of the First Baptist church, when Miss Maud Clark, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Clark, became the bride of Mr. J. O. Bishop in the presence of the immediate relatives and members of the Philathea class. Mrs. Ernest Shearin sang "Because," while the bridal party entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Ada Shearin.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. I. M. Mercer, the ring service being used.

The bride wore a handsome tailored traveling suit of cobalt blue with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Bishop has always been an active member of the church and served the Philathea class as its competent president for several years Mr. Bishop is a well known engineer of the Atlantic Coast Line.

They left midst the showers of rice and good wishes on the 6:45 train for an extensive trip to Washington, New York, Toronto and other points.

MRS. WINSTEAD AND MRS. WILLIAMS IMPRESSIVE.

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—In presiding for the ceremony of unveiling and presenting to the State the oil painting of Hon. Ashley Horne yesterday, Mrs. M. A. Winstead delivered an especially eloquent address in which she declared it one of the proudest days for the women of the State in all the history of North Carolina and especially so for the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and that the ceremonies for the unveiling of the monument just witnessed was one of the most imposing and beautiful ever held at the State capitol, the monument being dedicated to the lofty devotion and heroic sacrifices of our mothers of the Sixties. She said that the monument stands symbolic of one man's great appreciation of his mother's devotion and sacrifice to the cause of her country and not unmindful that other mothers made equally great sacrifices.

Mrs. Winstead reviewed the efforts of the Daughters of the Confederacy in perpetuating the valor and heroism of the Confederate soldier—"Who suffered all, sacrificed all, dared all—and died." She declared the portrait a love offering and token of affectionate gratitude to one whose confidence was never misplaced. She paid tribute to Mrs. Marshall Williams, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who painted the portrait, declaring that she had traced on the canvass with wonderful truth the lines of his countenance and made his eyes speak of his great love and devotion to the men and women of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Winstead introduced Mrs. Williams to the vast audience and she formally presented the portrait; Mrs. Williams pictured the great heart of Colonel Horne realizing the sacrifices and privations of his mother and the other women of the Confederacy and determining to erect the monument to the women of the Confederacy. Sentiment she declared to be one of the greatest forces of the world and a potent factor in the Confederate cause. She presented the portrait in the name of the five thousand Daughters of the Confederacy all over the State, assuring the governor that it was but a slight token of their appreciation of this knightly Confederate and gallant friend of womanhood—Colonel Horne.

Governor Craig accepted the portrait in brief but feeling remarks, assuring the ladies that it will be cherished by the State authorities and given a fitting place in the splendid administration building for the erection of which Colonel Horne was the chairman of the legislative building commission.

MR. GEORGE S. BEATTY WEDS MISS GERTRUDE BARKER.

Apex, N. C., June 11.—At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning Olive Chapel Baptist church was the scene of the solemnizing of the wedding of Mr. George S. Beatty, of Ivanhoe, N. C., and Miss Gertrude Barker, of the Olive Chapel neighborhood. The interior of the church was tastefully decorated with long leaf pine and pink roses, pink and white candles furnishing the light.

With the first strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, Miss Mayme Burt, of Holly Springs, entered the church with Mr. Harvey M. Holleman, of San Diego, Cal., and the ushers, Messrs. J. H. Luther, Jr., and C. R. Corbett, of Ivanhoe. Following these came, in single file, attired in white lace dresses with picture hats touched with pink, the bridesmaids, Misses Mayme Wilson, Florence Page, of Nelson; Clara Burt, of Holly Springs; Mayme Luther, Gypsie Barker, of Durham, and Zola Upchurch. Next came the groomsmen, Messrs. Carlyle Edwards, of Cary; Robert Beatty, Kyle Yates, C. C. Burns, of Ivanhoe; W. C. Rourk and Bun Olive. Master Eugene Wilson, cousin of the bride, bearing the ring in a cala lily, preceded little Miss Elizabeth Maynard, who strewed rose petals in the path of the bride.

Side by side, as their friends had so often seen them, entered the bride, lovely in crepe de chine and veil with pearl trimmings, and her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Floy Fay Barker, in white dress and picture hat. The bride carried a bouquet of brides roses showered with white sweet peas, while the maid of honor matched the touch of pink in the decorations with pink carnations. Reaching the altar the bride was joined by the bridegroom, who had entered from the ante-room with his best man, Mr. John Beatty.

While the pianist softly rendered Traumerei, Rev. J. M. Holleman took the [illegible] using the beautiful ring ceremony. After a prayer by Rev. W. S. Olive, the bridal party passed down the rose strewn path to their motor cars leaving to take the eastbound train for Wrightsville Beach. The young couple will spend a few days there before going to their home at Ivanhoe.

The bride has been a popular teacher in Wake and other counties. Mr. Beatty is a prominent young business man of Ivanhoe. Many beautiful gifts bear testimony to the deserved popularity of the two. The guests from a distance at the wedding, besides those in the bridal party, were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Corbett, Miss Maggie Corbett and Mr. Corbett, all of Ivanhoe, and Miss Hope Barker, of Durham.

OCEANIC OPENS MONDAY.

Building Now Being Made Ready for Reception of Guests.

The Oceanic Hotel at Wrightsville Beach will open its doors to the public Monday morning. Those who will have charge of the dining room, the servants and other help arrived yesterday and are now busy getting everything in readiness for the opening. Mr. W. E. Pennington, "The Old Reliable," will be chief clerk and will arrive this week. The other members of the clerical staff practically all of them having been with the hotel for several seasons, will be here in time for the opening.

Mr. Chas. E. Hooper, the popular and efficient manager, is looking forward to a most successful season. He has received many requests for reservations during the next few weeks and is expecting to have quite a number of visitors the first of the week.

A number of improvements have been made during the winter, of the more important being the building of a large number of outdoor sleeping rooms for the annex. This will no doubt prove to be a most popular feature. The entire building has been overhauled and renovated during the last few weeks. This has been done under the direction of Mr. Hooper, who has made daily trips to the beach for the last few weeks for the purpose of seeing that the work is done properly.

FT. FISHER SEA BEACH.

Material on Grounds and Work Progressing Steadily—Boat.

Mr. H. M. Clark, cales manager of the Kure Land & Development Co., yesterday gave out the information that outside capitalists have arranged to build a hotel of 1.4 rooms at Fort Fisher sea beach for use next season and that already this season a great deal of constructive work has been accomplished. The resort is less than 1,200 yards from the ruins of the famous Fort Fisher and Mr. Clark says many thousand brick and 100,000 feet of lumber are now on the grounds, waiting to be converted into cottages. A railroad from a pier that has been built on the river side of the development to the resort, a distance of one mile, will be completed next week and the Fort Fisher, a passenger steamer, will begin making trips to the beach next week.

Quite a number who have purchased lots at the beach have signified their purpose of building cottages there this winter and by the opening of next season, it is stated that the beach will be a strong bidder for popular favor. A bath house will be finished there within a few days, so that bany fishing and outing parties may be accommodated even this season.

THEATRICAL

When anything real big, real new, and entirely out of the ordinary, is to e secured in the way of motion pic res, you may always trust to the popular photoplay house to secure it for their patrons. The Bijou manage ment is ever on the lookout for some thing big and new for their hosts of "fans," and even now, one of the owners is in New York City looking over the field with a view to "signing up" some of the biggest exclusive movie features ever seen in Wilming ton to be shown within the next few months.

Following this line, The Bijou an nounces for today, the first authentic genuine, stupendous production of "The Life of Buffalo Bill." Every Wil mingtonian has heard of Buffalo Bill, and thousands have seen him with his greatest of all wild west shows, and this picture today is a strictly true interpretation of his life, and the life of the mammoth world-famed show of which he was owner up to bout a year ago, when he retired. his mammoth feature cost a bunch money to bring to Wilmington, as it one of those highest class feature photoplays that are released under special arrangement only. It is three full reels in length, over three thous and feet of film.

Another big feature today is a Uni versal special release, "Won in the Clouds," a masterpiece of sensation ism, in which six reels of action and sensation are condensed into three. Three reels of lions, elephants, jungle fights with savages, and with a charm ing love theme pervading all. It is an adventure of South America, in which the wild and domesticated animals of he jungles play an important part, nd in which a young English woman saved by the timely arrival of a arge balloon. For today only, the admission will be ten cents, for these two mammoth features, but children will be admitted to the matinees for five cents.

At The Grand Today.

The folks of Wilmington certainly know a good thing when they see it, consequently they crowd the hand some, comfortable Grand daily. Be sides a daily new show, composed of the largest, best and most wholesom of films, The Grand is as cool as the proverbial cucumber, being electrically chilled and freely ventilated. Today more great and rare things, the latest tput of the biggest film concerns, ll be flashed on the immense Grand reen, which is a feature in itself. oday's leading star, for all will be stars, is another one of those mam moth Indian tales, which has cost the Kalem folks a mint of money to pro duce and which have taken the coun try literally by storm. Today's is "Grey Eagle's Last Stand," and it is a wonderful, thrilling tale in two big parts, and with the noted Indian act ress, Princess Mona Darkfeather in the leading role. Charles Bartlett, Art Ortega and the Indian actor, Big Moon, are also in the cast.

The Vitagraph, not to be outdone, will also make an immense offering today. It is a comedy and its a ha, ha, all the way through. It is "Fan ny's Melodrama."

Then there is another superb one today in Selig's "The Last Man's Club." It's a stirring aftermath story of the War Between the States.

Many Wilmington friends and those throughout this section of the Caro linas will hear with sorrow of the death of Maj. J. J. Lucas, of Society Hill, S. DEMOCRATIC SENATORS IN WASHINGTON ARE "RILED."

Because Negro Recorder of Deeds Is Not to be Fired.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., June 11.—The extreme hot weather, the tolls fight and other troubles of the Democratic senators were shunted to the back ground today, when it was rumored around the Democratic cloakroom that President Wilson had no idea of fir ing Recorder of Deeds Johnson, the negro Republican.

The senators were unable to contain themselves when upon investigation they were told that President Wilson s campaign managers had promised that Johnson should not be fired but if by any way he should be forced out another negro would be appointed to fill the vacancy.

The question of ousting negroes here has been a sore subject with the Southern Democratic senators. Presi dent Wilson forced them to confirm the negro Terrell as judge of the Dis trict court. He now throws the fat in the fire by insisting that the John son negro must sit at the head of the table in recorder of deeds office where white women and men must come un der his immediate supervision.

Representative Pou introduced his mother and sister to President Wilson today. It is the first time that elder Mrs. Pou has been to Washington since Franklin Pierce was President in 1856.

Commissioner Osborn went to Ox ford today to be with his cousin, Caleb Osborn, who is seriously ill. Mr. Caleb Osborn is postmaster at Oxford.

DEFENSE COMPLETES IN BANK VS. M'ARTHUR CASE

Carvalho on Stand—Evidence Repeti tion of First Trial.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—The de fense completed the taking of evidence today in the Federal Court trial of the noted case of Citizens' Bank of Norfolk vs. Adam McArthur and Mrs. M. E. McArthur, involving the genu ineness of $25,000 in notes held by the bank against the defendants, and it is expected that the case can go to the jury before Saturday night.

This is the second trial, the first one, some months ago, having resulted in a tied jury.

Much of the time this afternoon was taken up with the examination of Da vid N. Carvalho, the famous handwrit ing expert, who has figured in many of the most noted cases in this coun try and Europe. He testified that, in his opinion, the McArthur signatures are not genuine.

Much time was taken this morning in a searching cross-examination of Adam McArthur. All the evidence is a repetition of that gone through with in the former trial. Judge H. G. Con nor is presiding.

MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT MAY COST TWO LIVES.

MAXIMUM IN RALEIGH, 100,

Temperature in Capital 12 Degrees Above Wilmington's.

Raleigh, N. C., June 11.—Raleigh had its hottest day of the year today, and was reported as one of the five hottest cities in the United States. About 3 o'clock the temperature was 100 degrees. Only in four cases has this been exceeded in June in past years in this city. A slight rainfall temporarily relieved the situation late in the afternoon.

community. While the city has good train service it could still be improv ed.

Taking up the need of a back coun try, Mr. MacRae showed how he had worked for ten years to get an intelli gent class of people into the section surrounding Wilmington who would aid in building up the contiguous ter ritory and this he felt was one of the most needed things. A winter resort is also one of the possibilities because Wilmington has the best climate in the world. When this is done there will come to the city people of leisure, of means and of intelligence and if the advantages here are shown proper ly they will make investments here and aid in its development. The city should also be made a city beautiful because there is nothing that is no ticed more quickly by a stranger than the surroundings. Then, too, while living it might as well be done pleas antly as otherwise.

Comparing Wilmington with Jack ii'l-kq sonville, Savannah and Charleston, he showed how she has much better ad vtantages than either of these cities. While Jacksonville has doubled her population in ten years' time, the growth of the negro population has been as great as the white, while in Wilmington the increase in whites has been much greater. The South must have more of the intelligent immigrant class and fwer negroes if the country is to grow and prosper, said the speak er.

In conclusion the speaker spoke of the meeting several weeks ago when the idea was advanced of forming an organization with the motto, "Wil mington's Interlocking Interests." He explained in detail how it was hoped to make this a great power for the up building of the city and suggested that the marchants appoint represen tatives to the congress.

He had said before but would dare to say it again that the past history of Wilmington had been somewhat like that of the building of the tower of Babel. "We have each spoken dif ferent languages and have not under stood each other. I hope that by or ganizing a city congress that we can all get together and make this a city that will be a model to all the rest of the country."

HEALTH BOOKS AUDITED.

Refund to Both the City and County is Now Available.

Certified Public Accountant Albert H. Marsh having completed his audit of the books of the County Board of Health, a summary shows that there is a surplus of $304.47 to be refunded to the county and $1,031.33 to the city. The Board of Health claims that the city is still due the board $334.96, which will likely be deducted from the amount to be returned to the city. This amount, it is said, will have to go into the sinking fund of the city as an unexpended appropriation and not into the general fund as was at first proposed, the law requiring the for mer.

Actual cash on hand to the credit of the board on May 31 was $1,000.84, which, when $250.74 cash on hand Oc tober 31 is deducted, represents the difference for seven months between $12,250 appropriated and $11,503.87 dis bursed.

Members of Y. M. C. A. Interested in Matter—Meeting Tonight.

A meeting of the members of the Y. M. C. A., who are interested in having a club house at Wrightsville Beach this summer, will be held at the asso ciation building tonight at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of giving the matter thorough consideration. There are a number who have expressed them selves as being favorable to the propo sition. Every member of the associa tion who would like to have such a feature is cordially invited to attend the meeting this evening.

The plan now under way contem plates securing a building at "The Hammocks," which can be used by the members for recreation during the summer months. If there are enough interested, it will be possible to se cure the building and all that is need ed is a little talking.

Well Known Colored Woman Dead.

A telegram was received yesterday by David Bryant, a well known color ed citizen, stating that his aunt, Ra chel Wilson, died in Goldsboro yester day morning. The remains will be brought to Wilmington this morning and the funeral will take place from St. Luke's A. M. E. church. The de ceased was long a resident of Wil mington and had many friends here. She was a colored woman of ante-bel lum raising and training and possess ed more than ordinary intelligence. She was the last of the descendants of the late Cecilia Saunders, who was given her freedom long before the War between the States, by the late Daniel Saunders, grandfather of Gov ernor D. L. Russell.

Meeting of Wilmington Bar.

There will be a meeting of the local bar association this morning at 11 o'clock in the office of the clerk of Su perior court when several matters will be taken up. It is probable that the annual meeting of the State associa tion which convenes at Wrightsville Beach June 29 will be taken up. All members are urged to be present.

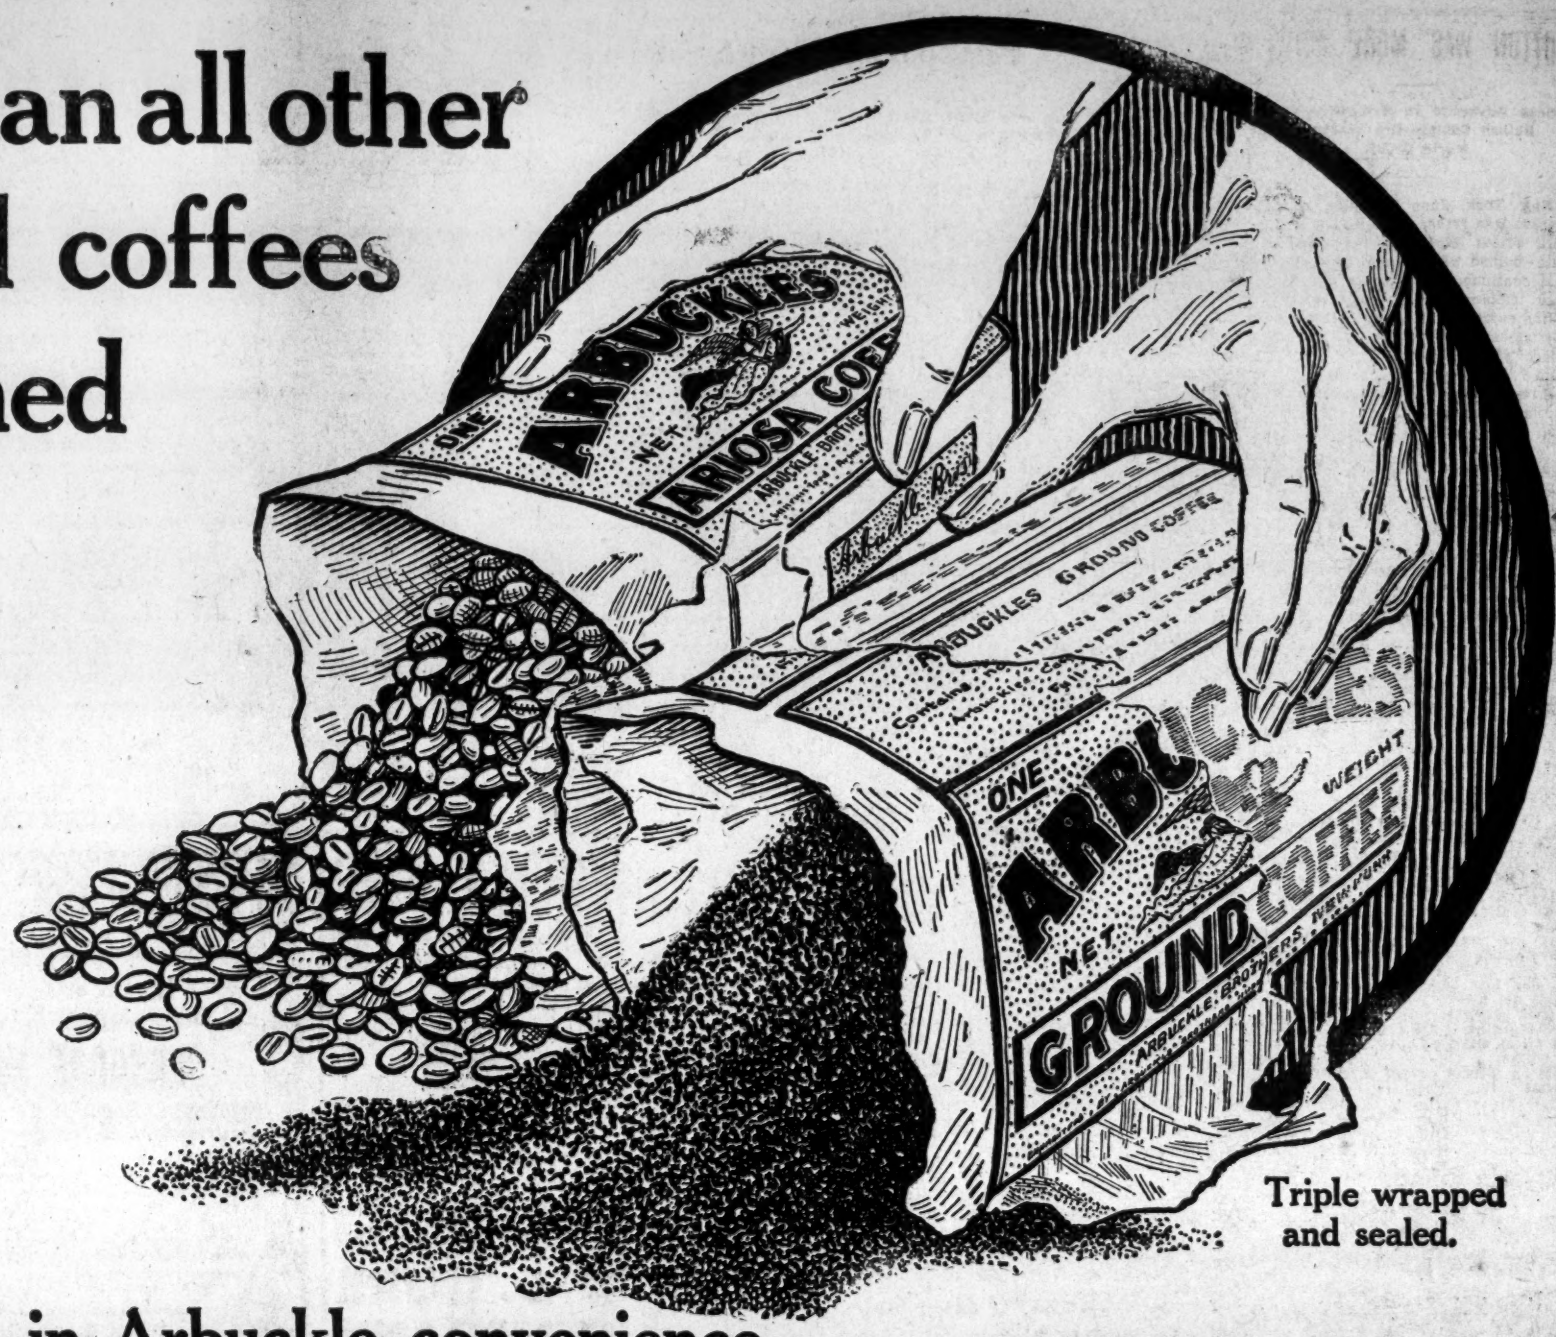
More sold than all other packaged coffees combined



Triple wrapped and sealed.

The Reasons Why

For many years, Arbuckles' Coffee has been used in more American homes than all other packaged coffees combined, and its sale is increasing.

It is this enormous sale, that makes it possible to give the splendid value for which Arbuckles' is famous.

From the moment that Arbuckles' was brought out, years ago, everybody liked it.

They liked its rich, delicious flavor; the freshness with which it came to them in its sealed package, protected from moisture and store odors.

They liked it because it was always 16 ounces to the pound; all pure, honest coffee and always the same; because with it they could rely on their coffee every morning. Because it gave a surprising number of full-flavored cups to the pound—it was economical to use as well as to buy.

Another new step in Arbuckle convenience—

You can now get Arbuckles' Coffee "Ground" as well as "Whole Bean"

As so many people now want to buy their coffee ground, Arbuckles' is now put up in that way—in an extra sealed, moisture-proof wrapper. This is the final step for your convenience and satisfaction—thus making Arbuckles' coffee suit every need and every preference.

If you have not used Arbuckles' lately, get a package at your grocer's today. Try Arbuckles' now and you will see why it is the favorite coffee of America. Your whole family will exclaim with delight when they get a whiff of its splendid aroma, and taste its delicious flavor.

All the merchants named below sell and recommend Arbuckles' Coffee.

In the list you will find one who is near you.

Go to this merchant today and get a package of this famous coffee.

One woman wrote us: "My married daughter has just started housekeeping with Arbuckles' Coffee. I have used it for 25 years, and my mother also used it."

Begin now to give your family the coffee of the richest, most agreeable, satisfying flavor that you can get for the money. Compare it with the coffee you are paying more for—see what a splendid value Arbuckles' Coffee is.

COTTON WAS MORE ACTIVE

Prices Advanced in Sympathy With Bullish Cables—Dry Weather Hurts Crops.

New York, June 11.—The cotton market was rather more active today with prices advancing in sympathy with bullish cables and on reports that continued dry weather and very high temperatures in many sections of the eastern and central belts were hurting the crop outlook. Closing prices were steady at a net gain of from 6 to 10 points.

Private cables reported covering of shorts in Liverpool on less favorable crop reports and continental buying in a comparatively narrow market. The opening here was firm at an advance of 6 to 10 points in keeping with the English advance and there was considerable foreign buying as well as covering by recent sellers and renewed bull support. Realizing was heavy around the initial figures, however, while private predictions for more general rains in the eastern belt encouraged some local selling and the market eased off six or seven points from the best during the early trading.

The official forecast failed to confirm private predictions as it indicated generally fair weather with the exception of probable showers in Georgia and Alabama, and as the early offerings were very well taken on the comparatively moderate setback, sellers became less aggressive. Detailed weather reports showed some rain in the Vicksburg and New Orleans districts, but otherwise indicated little precipitation, while the fact that not less than 40 stations east of the river showed maximum temperatures of 100 degrees or over during the past 24 hours created some fresh bullish sentiment.

At any rate buying became more active during the early afternoon with the market making new highs for the day and selling about 9 to 13 points net higher, but private reports of good showers in Georgia promoted local realizing in the late trading and last prices showed reactions of five to six points.

Cotton futures closed steady.

Trousers? That's Different.

Would men ever get anywhere, do you think, if they fussed around with as many disconnected things as most women do? We have all seen the swelling satisfaction with which the comely young schoolma'am, complimented upon a pretty gown, announces, "I made it myself." But really, viewed in the light of reason, what is there about the feat upon which she should so plume herself? Suppose that a man should point proudly to his nether garments and say, "Lo! I made these trousers."—Mary Leal Harkness in Atlantic.

Cheap Wives.

Among the Ainus the price of a wife is a bear ham. The Kaffir price varies from four to eight oxen. In Uganda a wife can be obtained for a score of cartridges. The Australian black obtains his helpmate for her weight in butter, and in Turkestan the Tartars can buy as many wives as they please for a box of matches each.

HEAVINESS IN STOCK MARKET

Weight Appeared in Spots in Market. Speculation Was as Dull and Colorless as Usual.

New York, June 11.—Heaviness appeared in spots in the stock market today. Speculation was as dull and colorless as on recent days. Canadian Pacific was depressed by the statement of gross earnings for the first week in June, revealing a decrease of nearly $500,000. St. Paul fell behind for a time owing presumably to disappointment over the slow absorption of the new bonds. Reading and Smelting also were heavy as were a few of the specialties. The movement as a whole, however, was narrow with only a fractional change.

Engagement of $2,300,000 gold for Paris today brought up the total this week to $17,350,000, a high record in the outflow of gold from New York in a single week, but exchange rates held at an abnormally high level. Demand sterling touched a new high mark for the movement at 4.8890, and cables mounted to 4.8945. Sixty day and 90 day loans moved up 1-4c. Once more the freight rate decision was the foremost consideration in the stock market and it was said generally that, barring the unforeseen, speculation would be held down to a low point until the Inter-State Commerce Commission announced its ruling.

Weakness appeared again in Virginia debt certificates, which fell four points to 50. Rock Island issues also were heavy. The general bond market moved uncertainly. Total sales, par value, $2,000,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

THAW'S COUNSEL AND JEROME HAVE AGREED

Harry Will be Permitted to go to Pittsburgh.

To Testify in Matter of His Father's Estate—Application for Bail Will Be Withdrawn by the Defense.

New York, June 11.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw and William Travers Jerome, counsel for the State of New York, today announced that it had been agreed to allow Thaw, who is now in New Hampshire, to go to Pittsburg to testify in the matter of his father's estate.

At the same time Merrill Shurtleff, of counsel for Thaw, stated that in consideration of this concession on the part of the State, the application to the United States Supreme court for Thaw's admission to bail temporarily would be withdrawn.

Thaw's status, said Mr. Jerome, would remain the same.

While Thaw is being taken from one State to another, all State authorities will be enjoined from interference with his custody. A time limit for his stay in Pittsburg would probably be specified by the Supreme court, said Mr. Jerome.

Thaw, slayer of Standford White, escaped from the Matteawan asylum in this State in August, 1913, and fled to Canada. When deported he was arrested in New Hampshire. The governor of that State granted New York's request for extradition, but the Thaw lawyers blocked this by a Federal writ of habeas corpus obtained on constitutional grounds. The Federal district court sustained this writ and it is now before the United States Supreme court on appeal.

No Comment From Thaw.

Gorham, N. H., June 11.—Harry K. Thaw made no comment today when informed of the agreement between William T. Jerome and Thaw's attorneys under which he will be allowed to go to Pittsburg to testify.

Thaw, in the custody of Sheriff Drew, of New Hampshire, has been staying at a White Mountain summer home here since leaving Concord a fe weeks ago.

under that law. Some of those released, he said, had abandoned militancy; others had fled the country.

The home secretary appealed to the newspapers to cease reporting suffragist outrages and thus deprive the militants of advertisement, which, he maintained, was the main spring of their existence.

Many of these women, he said, are hysterical fanatics and are possessed of a courage that would risk anything. Many of them wanted to die to gain what they believed to be martyrdom. Advertisement of their acts was a thing they desired above all.

Mr. McKenna urged the prosecution of subscribers to the militant funds.

"If this succeeded," the Home Secretary said, "there is no doubt that the day of militancy would be over. Whatever may be the difference of feelings regarding the "hunger strikers", there can be no doubt as to what the feeling is with regard to the wealthy women who pay these women by the week to commit crime. If we succeed in these actions it means the destruction of the 'Women's Political and Social Union' and e shall see the last of Mrs. Pankhurst."

Militants Explode Bomb.

Militant suffragists staged one of the most dramatic acts of their campaign today when they exploded a bomb in Westminster Abbey at the very moment the Right Hon. Reginald McKenna, secretary of state for home affairs, was delivering an optimistic speech in the House of Commons nearby, regarding the government's method of dealing with the "wild women." The bomb was placed beside the famous corporation chair in Edward the Confessor's chapel. Although it did little damage, its report penetrated to the House chamber, interrupting Mr. McKenna's oration and bringing members into the street to learn what had happened.

A statement issued by Scotland Yard gives the facts in a conservative form.

"At 5 o'clock," says the statement, "a small bomb was exploded in immediate proximity to the coronation chair. It is supposed some member of a large party of sightseers lagged behind the rest and deposited the bomb when the others had left the chapel.

"The damage done was slight. A portion of the carved wood at the back of the chair was blown off and some of the stone carving of the screen of the great altar was damaged.

Woman Left Signs.

"The bomb, thin metal, nickle-plated, was exploded by a fuse. A woman's feather boa, a guide book and a small black silk bag were found on a chair nearby. The pieces blown off can be put together again."

The explosion startled a hundred or more visitors, who were being conducted about the abbey and women ran screaming for the doors. A great cloud of dust filled the chapel and those within first thought lightning had struck the building.

Two young women who were nearest the chair, were taken to the police station, but were released when they proved they were foreigners.

Discussion of the militant campaign in the House of Commons showed that the government contemplates no new measures except to attempt to make subscribers to the funds of the Women's Social and Political Union responsible for damage the militants inuict.

The home secretary who made a lengthy speech, dismissed the suggestion of the deportation of the militants as impracticable and declared to let the mcommit suicide in jail by starvation likely would arouse sympathy. He appealed to the newspapers to kill the agitation by ceasing to give them advertisement.

COUNTRY CONTINES TO SUFFER FROM HEAT WAVE

New Records Established—Raleigh is Among Hottest Places in Country.

Washington, June 11.—Heat held its relentless grip again today on the greater part of the country east of the Missouri valley. At some points new June records were reached. The only cool spot in the entire area was around the upper Lake region, where a few places enjoyed temperatures around 60.

The hottest place on the map was Yuma, Ariz., where the mercury climbed up to 106. Evansville, Ind., Mobile, Ala., Columbus, Ga., and Raleigh, N. C., sweltered with temperatures of 100. That equalled Mobile's June record.

In Wytheville, Va., a new mark of 94 for June was recorded.

St. Louis suffered with the mercury at 96, at Chicago it was 90, New York 86, Boston 90 and Washington 93.

Throughout the East the high temperatures were accompanied by excessive humidity.

Six More Deaths.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 11.—Six more deaths from heat prostration and three deaths from drowning were reported in Pittsburgh today. The maximum temperature was 90.

GREECE AND TURKEY MAY AGAIN GO TO SCRAPPING.

London Paper Predicts Renewal of Balkan War—The Cause.

London, June 11.—Another war between Greece and Turkey is foreshadowed today by The Times, which says the unrest in the Balkans has become acute. Several of the States, it says, have recently been employed in clearing their newly acquired territories of "undesirable" elements and the Bulgarians have been the principal sufferers.

The unrest is attributed by the newspaper to the drastic policy of the Young Turks in expelling all Greeks from Asia Minor and Turkish Thrace.

TOWN DESTROYED BY FLOOD.

Hillsboro, N. M., Practically Swept Away—One Death.

Albuquerque, N. M., June 11.—Hillsboro, in the southwest corner of New Mexico, practically was destroyed by a flood which swept through the principal setcion last night. A cloud burst sent a wall of water six feet high through the town.

Most of the 800 inhabitants had been warned. Thomas Murphy, a pioneer resident and first sheriff of the county, is missing and is believed to have been drowned. No other loss of life is reported.

STOCKABLE IS REMOVED.

Collector of Customs at Honolulu to Be Replaced by Democrat.

Washington, June 11.—Upon recommendation of Secretary McAdoo, President Wilson today removed E. R. Stockable, collector of customs at Honolulu, "for the good of the service." Mr. Stackable has held office 14 years, is a Republican, and according to officials is to be succeeded by an officer more in harmony with the administration. Deputy Collector Raymer Sharp has been designated to act. Stackable refused to resign.

ed attack, it is thought, would result in the capture of the city.

The Constitutionalist forces besieging Mazatlan, it was learned today, stormed and captured the hill of strategic importance north of the city Tuesday night. A new walled cemetery also fell into their possession.

The discovery was made today that the breech plugs of all the Federal garrison's guns, except one at Fort Rosalies were missing.

The artillery officer in charge has decamped.

Fearing that the neutral zone recently designated for non-combatants might not be respected in the attack, the entire consular corps at Mazatlan sent a note today through Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the United States Pacific fleet, to Gen. Iturbe, the Constitutionalist commander, again requesting that the zone be safeguarded.

The German consul has sent a letter of thanks to Admiral Howard for protecting German interests.

Japanese Minister Adachi, returning to Mexico City after an unsuccessful effort to reach the west coast, arrived safely, it is reported, at Guadalajara, where he was met by the secretary of the Japanese legation with a special train. The train carries three automobiles for use in case the railway is blocked.

Carothers to Saltillo.

El Paso, Texas, June 11.—In order to place the Washington government in closer touch with Gen. Carranza's headquarters, Geo. C. Carothers, special representative of the Department of State, today was ordered to proceed directly to Saltillo from Torreon.

Mr. Carothers, who is consular agent at Torreon, for several weeks has been representing the State Department while accompanying Gen. Villa.

The order for Carothers' transfer from Villa's to Carranza's headquarters was taken here to indicate that the administration at Washington desired to begin a series of direct negotiations with the Constitutionalist commander.

Agents and supporters of the Constitutionalists here were jubilant today over the sudden turn in affairs at Niagara Falls. From all sides was expressed reiteration of confidence in the friendliness of the Washington administration. It was predicted that disagreement at Niagara Falls would hasten Gen. Carranza's reply to the pending proposition of the mediators.

Few details arrived from the south regarding the attack on Zacatecas and the investment of San Luis Potosi. It was stated, however, that Gen. Natera, recently appointed as commander of a new central military zone, was in complete command of the Zacatecas attack. Gen. Villa remained at Torreon, viewing Natera's efforts from a distance.

The situation in Sonora caused by factional trouble between the military and civil State governments, was credited as having caused a hurried trip to Nogales by Ygnacio Bonillas, Carranza's acting secretary of communication.

MASONS MEET PRESIDENT.

Seven Hundred Mystic Order Received at White House.

Washington, June 11.—Practically every Masonic jurisdiction in the United States was represented today in a delegation of more than 700 members of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets received by President Wilson. The Masons were returning to their homes from their recent National convention in Richmond, Va.

MRS. BASS MAY BE ELECTED PRESIDENT WOMEN'S NATIONAL CLUB FEDERATION

Chicago, June 11.—Mrs. George Bass, chairman of the local committee in charge of the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs now in session here, may be a candidate for president. She may win because she is an ardent suffragist. Suffrage is the big question of the convention. According to custom, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, is entitled to re-election, so as to carry out her policies, but she is not regarded as a suffragist. If Mrs. Bass should be elected it would break another precedant.
